TWENTY-FIFTH ANNUAL REPORT OF THE PRESIDENT

May 1, 1922.

To the Members of
The Merchants' Association of New York.

GENTLEMEN:

During the fiscal year of The Merchants' Association just closed, one of the most trying periods to business men in a decade, The Association continued its efforts toward the adjustment of business to the unusual conditions which have prevailed since the close of the World War.

Special attention has been given during the year of record to direct, and in many instances personal, service to members through the various Bureaus of The Association. This service has proved of great assistance in this adjustment of business to the new conditions.

I submit herewith the reports of the Chairman of the Members' Council, of the Secretary and of the Managers of the Bureaus of The Association, which outline in detail the activities of The Association and the results thereof. These reports, which constitute a record of the twenty-fifth year of The Association's existence, are earnestly commended to your careful attention.

While emphazing the direct service work of The Association in this report it must also be pointed out that The Association has in no wise diminished its activities in behalf of the general welfare of the City, State and Nation. It has continued its cooperation with other organizations, especially the Chamber of Commerce of the United States.

An unusual number of business failures, mergers and dissolutions have adversely affected the membership of The Association during the year, but nevertheless it is gratifying to report that the finances of The Association have remained in a healthy condition and that by the exercise of carefully considered economies the expense of its many and diversified activities during the year was somewhat more than met by its income for that period.

Despite the demands on their time resulting from the business strain which all have undergone, my associates on the Board of Directors and the members of the Committees of The Association have loyally accepted and carried out the duties assigned them in a manner that deserves the warm thanks of our membership, and this it is my privilege to extend to them now.

To the Secretary and the office staff I also express the cordial appreciation of myself and the members of The Association for their loyal, faithful and efficient service.

Yours very truly,

WILLIAM FELLOWES MORGAN,
President.

REPORT OF MEMBERS' COUNCIL

MAY 1, 1922.

To the Board of Directors of
The Merchants' Association of New York.

GENTLEMEN:

During the past year particular attention was given at the luncheon meetings of the Members' Council to subjects affecting the prosperity of the City and State of New York. The meetings were the Forty-fifth, Forty-sixth, Forty-seventh and Forty-eighth of the Council.

The first luncheon of the year was held on Friday, May 27, 1921. The subject was "Greater Facilities and Lower Costs in the Port of New York." The speakers were Mr. E. H. Outerbridge, Chairman of the Port of New York Authority, General George R. Dyer, Chairman of the New York State Bridge and Tunnel Commission, Mr. George A. Post, of the Hudson River Bridge and Terminal Association, and Mr. J. J. Mantell, Regional Manager of the Erie Railroad Company.

On Tuesday, October 4, 1921, a luncheon was given in honor of the late Right Honorable Viscount Bryce, P.C., former Ambassador of Great Britain to the United States. The speakers were Viscount Bryce and the Honorable John W. Davis, former Ambassador of the United States to Great Britain. This was perhaps the most memorable meeting of the year. It was the last public appearance in America made by Lord Bryce, as he sailed for England the following day. Those who saw and heard him at this meeting will always possess in memory the picture of a man—magnificent in years, brilliant in mind, full of understanding of the world's problems, and, though grayed by years, still inspired with the hope, courage and enthusiasm of youth. Would that the world possessed more such characters, with such vitality and breadth of vision.

On Thursday, January 26, 1922, the third luncheon of the year was held in honor of Honorable Nathan L. Miller, Governor of the State of New York. Governor Miller's subject was "Problems Affecting the City of New York." He was the only speaker. So interesting was his discussion of the subject that the audience insisted on staying until nearly three o'clock, thus themselves breaking the time-honored two o'clock rule of closing.

An interesting luncheon was held on April 27, 1922, the subject being "The New York State Barge Canal—An Avenue of Prosperity." The speaker was Honorable John L. Cadle, New York State Superintendent of Public Works. One of the features of this luncheon was the exhibition of moving pictures showing the operation of the canal. The presence at the luncheon for a few moments of Marshal Joffre was a most important event, recalling the historic occasion of 1917, at which the "Grand Old Man of France" was the guest of honor of The Association.

Digitized by Google

The discussion of matters of local interest at the luncheon meetings during the year, and the prominence of the speakers, resulted in maintaining the already growing interest of the press. Much useful information was thus made public. News stories were numerous, and editorial comment extensive and favorable.

The engrossing problems occupying the attention and requiring the close application to duty of business men during the year had some effect on attendance at the luncheon meetings. The average number present was less than in the War years, but the enthusiasm of those present indicated a lively interest in the continuance of the meetings.

I would respectfully call to the attention of your Board the fact that the present Chairman has acted as such since the organization of the Council, a period of nine years. It is my opinion that rotation in office is a fundamental principle in the successful conduct of any organization. I have often expressed this view in the past and urged the selection of another person as Chairman. At the end of this year, however, I must lay down the duties of this office. In doing so, I wish to express to you and my associates on the Council my very deep appreciation of their always cordial and active support. Undoubtedly these meetings have been to them, as they certainly have been to me, a source of the deepest pleasure and satisfaction. I shall always retain a strong interest in the continuance of the work of the Council and be ready to lend a hand. I believe that it constitutes one of the strongest elements in the maintenance and upbuilding of the influence of The Association in our City.

Respectfully submitted,

WILLIAM C. BREED,
Chairman of the Members' Council.

REPORT OF THE SECRETARY

May 1, 1922.

Mr. William Fellowes Morgan, President,
The Merchants' Association of New York.

DEAR SIR:

A RÉSUMÉ of the activities of The Merchants' Association of New York for its twenty-fifth fiscal year beginning May 1, 1921, and ending April 30, 1922, is submitted in this report. In compiling this résumé it is practicable specifically to mention only the more important matters, because a detailed statement of all the diverse and continuing services performed by The Association during that period cannot be comprised within the proper limits of an annual report. A more comprehensive view of the work of The Association during that year may be had by a careful examination of the detailed reports of the Bureau Managers, which are submitted herewith. All these reports are therefore commended to the members for examination; first, that they may secure a more comprehensive view of the activities of their Association and, second, because such an examination will doubtless suggest to many members additional services which The Association is in a position to perform for them.

The main problem confronting business during the year under review has been a continuation of the underlying problem of the preceding year; namely, the readjustment of business to the new and changing conditions resulting from the war and the rehabilitation of business under that readjustment. It is doubtful if there ever has been a time in which trade, commerce and industry, upon which the development of our City fundamentally rests, has been confronted with such great and unprecedented problems as those which existed during the twelve months referred to. This fact has characterized that year in The Association's life as one of opportunity for continuing service to business in connection with such problems, rather than as one in which more occasional specific activities have predominated.

PRINCIPAL ACTIVITIES

Continuing Bureau Service.

THE period under review has been characterized by serious economic depression at home and by an equally serious economic depression in many other parts of the world. This situation created unprecedented problems involving heretofore unknown factors. The determination of these factors, the solution of these problems and the readjustment of business to the new conditions was a necessity to all types of business units during that period. This fact rendered the daily service activities of The Association, conducted through its various Bureaus, under the general supervision and advice of the appropriate Committees, perhaps the most important single line of endeavor. Some comprehension of the type and extent of these service activities may be had by a careful perusal of the reports of those respective Bureaus.

St. Lawrence Canal Project.

THE International Joint Commission, created by the United States and the Dominion of Canada to study and report upon the feasibility of a proposed improvement of the channels of the St. Lawrence River so as to provide a waterway navigable by ocean steamships into the Great Lakes, rendered a report recommending the creation of such a waterway, basing their recommendation upon tentative and superficial surveys.

This proposition contemplated cooperation by the Dominion of Canada and the United States government in the great cost of constructing such a waterway largely lying in territory foreign to that of the United States. The Association, while being in favor of any improvement which would operate to the advantage of the Nation as a whole, nevertheless felt it essential that before any final and official conclusion as to the feasibility of this particular project should be reached, more accurate and detailed studies of the physical and engineering facts and of the economic factors involved in the situation, than were included in the study of the International Joint Commission, should be made.

In order more in detail to cover these factors, The Association retained Colonel Roger D. Black, C.E., to make a study and to report upon the physical and engineering facts and costs involved in the proposition, and also retained Professor Emory R. Johnson, of the University of Pennsylvania, an eminent authority on ocean commerce, to study and report upon the economic phases of the problem, especially with reference to the economic factors which determine world trade routes, and to the effect of those factors upon the actual utilization of such a waterway, if created. In this connection a study of the capacity and potentiality of the New York State Barge Canal system was also made for comparative purposes.

This activity, so important to the Nation as well as to the State and City of New York, is more fully described in the report of the Director of Research.

Postal Improvements Including the Restoration of the Pneumatic Tube Service.

EVERY business and citizen in the City of New York and every recipient of mail originating in New York, or originator of mail destined for New York, wherever located throughout the country, is directly affected by the certainty, celerity and continuity of mail service in this City. During the past year The Association has actively cooperated with the Joint Congressional Postal Commission in its comprehensive study of the existing postal facilities of this City and of practical methods for the enlargement and development of those facilities. It has also actively advocated the abandonment of the Old City Hall Post Office and the restoration of that site to the City of New York in exchange for a site north of the Municipal Building.

The pneumatic tube service, which had proven itself of great value in this connection, was suspended during the previous postal administration and mail truck service was substituted therefor. Under the congested conditions existing in the streets of this City and the delays during the winter time due to ice and snow, experience has demonstrated that the pneumatic tube service, for the important first-class mail matter at least, is far more dependable than automobile mail truck service.

In view of this fact, The Association vigorously advocated action by Congress for the restoration of the pneumatic mail tube service in this City and official action has now been taken which will shortly restore that service here.

It is the contention of The Merchants' Association that the Government, properly possessing a monopoly of the carriage of mail, is under obligation to furnish to the public, particularly to business, the best mail facilities which the development of that art has produced. It is immaterial to The Association by what method, whether Government ownership and operation or by contractual relations, the Government furnishes those facilities.

These matters are more fully discussed in the Report of the Director of Research and of the Manager of the Foreign Trade Bureau.

Encouragement to Foreign Trade.

THE fabricated production capacity of the United States was so enormously stimulated by the war that, if fully utilized, it would result in production considerably in excess of this country's power of consumption. This country, therefore, for the first time in its history, is in a position where foreign markets, for its production in excess of its own power of consumption, are an impelling necessity.

The attached report of the Manager of the Foreign Trade Bureau makes mention, with some particularity, of a number of efforts put forth by The Association to improve the conditions underlying the development of foreign trade and to facilitate the maintenance and increase of that character of business—most of which are mentioned later in this report.

I would, however, call your attention at this point to one of those efforts.

During the war stringent passport requirements were deemed necessary as a matter of national defense. The fee for the issuance of passports was increased from $2.00 to $10.00 while, by Act of Congress, the fee for viséing by a representative of the United States of a passport issued by another country was raised from $2.00 to $10.00. This raise of the fee for viséing resulted in rataliatory action by many of the countries in which the possible markets for American products lie. That retaliatory action took the form of raising the fees for viséing American passports usually to a corresponding figure; namely, $10.00 in the currency of the United States. This raising of fees has constituted a very serious tax upon American business men seeking to secure a market for their commodities abroad, as well as upon the general traveling public, and has further resulted in creating a great deal of friction and bad feeling among the representatives of the various nations, most of which feeling is directed toward the United States.

Moreover, these increased fees resulted in a large revenue to the United States government over and above the cost of the service performed.

The Association, believing that such a tax is an impediment to the development of foreign commerce and is unwise and detrimental to the best interests of the Nation, has earnestly and continuously advocated.

Digitized by Google

1. That the United States enter into agreements with other countries, whenever feasible, removing entirely the regulation that passports must be viséd for travel between the countries in question,
2. That passports be entirely abolished for nationals of certain countries entering the United States, provided those countries grant a reciprocal privilege to our citizens,
3. That the charge both for issuing and viséing passports be reduced to whatever amount is necessary to cover the actual cost of the service.

As a result of this activity several modifications have already been made and a bill has been introduced in Congress to provide for the reduction of the fees for issuing and viséing passports. This matter is more fully covered in the report of the Manager of the Foreign Trade Bureau.

OTHER IMPORTANT ACTIVITIES

Protection of Water Supply

IN order to protect the Croton water supply from threatened pollution through the erection of institutions upon the Croton water shed, this Association had previously advocated that the property comprised in the Mohansic State Reservation be devoted to the purpose of a State public park. This proposition was consummated by enactment of the Legislature.

During the year under review, The Association approved and advocated action by the Legislature whereby this public park was turned over to the authorities of Westchester County to be maintained by those authorities for the purpose indicated, namely, a public park. This final disposition concludes the effort long made by The Association to insure the protection of the Croton water supply from possible pollution at that point.

Protection and Development of the Port of New York.

THE Association during the year continued its policy of active cooperation in securing the consummation of the Port Authority plan for the protection of the Port of New York.

It was particularly interested in the advancement of this work to a stage where it seems to be beyond danger of abandonment or fundamental change. The plan devised by the Port Authority was submitted to and approved in principle by The Association and it has now been approved by the Legislatures of New York and New Jersey and by the Congress of the United States. In view of the fact that The Merchants' Association was the first to propose the creation of a Commission empowered to frame such a plan as has now been outlined, this result was particularly gratifying.

Muscle Shoals.

THE Association made a careful analysis of the offer tendered by Mr. Henry Ford to purchase from the Government all the manufacturing plants and appurtenances which had been constructed at Muscle Shoals at a cost of between $80,000,000 and $90,000,000. Upon the facts developed by this analysis it was concluded by The Association that the proposal made by Mr. Ford was not for the best interests of the Nation and, therefore, The Association vigorously opposed the acceptance of that proposition.

Daylight Saving.

PURSUANT to its activities during the previous year for the preservation of daylight saving, The Association during the year under review actively opposed all suggestions for the repeal of the present law in this State, giving local option in regard to saving daylight, and cooperated with organizations in other States in the effort to secure a more broad application of the daylight saving principle.

Soldiers' Bonus.

THE Association has actively opposed the bill pending in Congress to provide a general bonus for veterans of the late war, while sympathetically and earnestly supporting measures for the relief of those who were disabled or incapacitated as a result of war service.

National Merchandise Fair.

THE National Retail Dry Goods Association undertook the establishment of a National Merchandise Fair to be held semi-annually for the purpose of conducting an exhibit for buyers and thus facilitating the purchase of the class of goods to be included in the Fair.

The Merchants' Association successfully undertook the movement to secure the location of that National Merchandise Fair in the City of New York. The first session of the Fair will be held during August. It is proposed to conduct the Fair similarly to those conducted for a long period of time in certain European cities. If this Fair in New York shall prove as successful as those in European cities, it will be a matter of continuing and great value to every business unit in the City, as well as to the City itself.

In addition, The Association during the year under review has carefully and actively followed many other subjects of importance, which are referred to later in this report and are set forth in some detail in the attached Bureau reports.

OFFICERS AND DIRECTORS

DURING the year under review, the Officers of The Association were as follows:

MR. WILLIAM FELLOWES MORGAN, President.
MR. LEWIS E. PIERSON, First Vice-President.
MR. JAMES GILBERT WHITE, Second Vice-President.
MR. WILLIAM HAMLIN CHILDS, Third Vice-President.
MR. JOHN H. LOVE, Treasurer.
MR. S. C. MEAD, Secretary.

A vacancy in the Board of Directors was caused by the death of Mr. John W. Nix, which occurred on February 23, 1922.

DIRECTORS AND COMMITTEEMEN

APPROXIMATELY 400 members of The Association have served on the various standing and special Committees during the year. It is largely upon the results of the study made by these Committees concerning the various matters before The Association that the Board of Directors must depend for comprehensive information of facts and for sound recommendations. These gentlemen have devoted themselves unselfishly to this work, freely giving of their time and energy. To these Committee members, and to the Directors, is to be attributed in great degree the success attained by The Association in its work.

MEMBERS' COUNCIL

THE luncheon meetings conducted by the Members' Council were continued during the year, and although less in number than usual, were very valuable in bringing about a closer contact between the members of The Association, in stimulating a spirit of solidarity in the membership, and in disseminating information upon important matters of current interest.

The remarkable success of these luncheons since their inception has been in no small degree due to the able and inspiring leadership of Mr. William C. Breed, the Chairman of the Council.

BUREAUS

NO change was made during the year in the number or general character of the service Bureaus of The Association. These Bureaus constitute, under the general supervision and direction of the Secretary, the paid machinery through which most of The Association's activities are administered.

(A.) Traffic Bureau.

THE work performed through this Bureau is of two classes. First, to protect New York in its relative position in the freight rate structure of the country, especially to insure its full enjoyment in traffic matters of the benefits of its location upon the seaboard and its consequent opportunities for waterborne commerce. In the reconstruction of the freight rate structure of the country which is gradually taking place, it is of grave importance that New York should be effectively and successfully represented in this connection. Second, in the daily conduct of business transactions involving transportation, a great number of problems arise and a great amount of information to shippers and receivers of freight is helpful. The Association, through the Traffic Bureau, is giving this character of direct assistance to its members in a very large degree.

Outstanding in the attached report of the Manager of the Traffic Bureau as service of the first class are the paragraphs relating to the activity of The Association in connection with the rates from Eastern points to Virginia cities and Carolina points; the Transcontinental Rate case, the proposed application of a 100 miles mileage basis for the Poughkeepsie Bridge; the general revision of railroad rates now pending before the Interstate Commerce Commission; the matter of carload rating on books in Southern classification territory; the agitation concerning fiber and straw-board containers; the packing requirements on express shipments, and the application of The Hague Rules of 1921.

Regarding the second class of service, it will be noted from the Bureau report that during the year direct assistance was given to members of The Association in 1,066 instances. To that report is attached an Appendix, showing the diversity and character of this type of service. Reference to this Appendix by members who are interested in the actual transportation of goods will probably suggest to such members ways in which The Association can be of direct service to them.

(B.) Foreign Trade Bureau.

THE report of the Manager of the Foreign Trade Bureau shows that this line of service activity, while of even greater importance in character, was somewhat less in volume in regard to trade opportunities during the year under review than in the preceding year. This was due to the fact that international economic and financial conditions were so unsettled and depressed during that period that the conduct of foreign trade was impeded, and consequently the inquiries for opportunities were diminished. With an approach to settled and normal international conditions, it is certain that this direct service in foreign trade matters will greatly increase.

During the year, 1,320 inquiries relative to the purchase or sale of merchandise in foreign commerce received prompt response through the Foreign Trade Bureau. These inquiries covered 3,793 commodities, and the names of American producers or distributors, aggregating 51,172, were suggested to the inquirers. Although this number of inquiries is less than those received either in the year 1920 or 1921, they are about the average number received since the inception of this work in 1915, down to and including 1919.

During the eight years which this service has been operated by The Association, more than 400,000 suggestions of American houses have been forwarded to foreign inquirers wishing to buy or sell merchandise in the American market.

Digitized by Google

In the year under review, a weekly average of almost 1,000 of such suggestions has been made to such foreign inquirers.

Through this Bureau, and under the advisory guidance of appropriate Committees, The Association has during the year been active in endeavoring to promote the fairness and adequacy of laws, procedure and Department Rulings affecting imports; has successfully cooperated in connection with the markings required on Canadian shipments to show country of origin; has agitated an improvement in the conditions surrounding the loading of merchandise upon piers; has in various ways mentioned in the report of that Bureau, sought to secure improvement in efficiency of the Patent Office and in the operation of the patent laws which protect American goods when shipped to foreign markets; has aggressively endeavored to secure revision of the excessive fees for issuing and viséing passports; has analyzed the regulations and acts of the Federal Horticultural Board affecting the importation of horticultural products; has advocated improved mail and cable service in certain respects specified in the report; has opposed the requirements proposed in the Philippine Islands that books of account shall be kept in English, Spanish and native dialect, to the exclusion of Chinese; has assisted in the adjustment of business disagreements arising between firms in the United States and houses abroad, and has conducted a considerable number of miscellaneous activities which are listed in the report of the Bureau.

Evidences of the appreciation of the value of this service on the part of The Association are frequently received, indicating that a considerable volume of new business results therefrom.

(C.) Industrial Bureau.

IN the report for the previous year, reference was made to the publication by The Association of a report on "The Newtown Creek Industrial District of New York City," which during the year under review has received very favorable criticism and has been highly commended. Several thousand copies of this report were distributed during this year to manufacturers throughout the country engaged in lines of production for which the Newtown Creek district offers special attractions.

During the year a similar survey was made of Staten Island, and a report containing the results of that survey was published in pamphlet form, entitled "Staten Island, New York City—Its Industrial Resources and Possibilities." This report has been widely circulated and enthusiastically received. It is illustrated with maps and pictures which tell of the present and prospective factors governing the industrial development of Staten Island, and will, it is believed, be very helpful in calling attention to that district, which is so full of possibilities for such development.

During the year, also, material was compiled for an industrial map of New York City, designed to picture the City's industrial geography. Based upon this material, the master map was completed. It shows not only the City's entire industrial areas, both developed and undeveloped, but indicates the localities in which manufacturers of different products are centered, wherever the concentration is sufficient to warrant it.

Because of the industrial depression during the year, The Association's activities in the field of industrial relations have been largely concerned with the problem of unemployment. Its activities in this respect are very interesting, as set forth in the report of the Manager of the Industrial Bureau.

Attention was also given to the housing and construction problem, especially in connection with efforts to secure a solution of the deadlock existing between the Building Trades Employers' Association and the labor organizations.

During the period covered by this report the direct personal service to members conducted through this Bureau included 440 inquiries. Of these 435 were specifically answered, while five were awaiting completion at the close of the year. Some of these inquiries required wide investigation of matters having a common interest to all, or a large proportion of members engaged in industry. Some of the more important of these have been published in "Greater New York" in the form of reports for the benefit of the entire membership, while others have been distributed only to those classes in the membership whose business is especially pertinent to the subject. Some ten such reports were prepared and published. The character of this direct service is indicated by the list included in the report of the Manager of that Bureau.

(D.) Bureau of Research.

In order to give the Directors and the Committees of The Association a carefully ascertained fact basis upon which to exercise judgment in reaching conclusions regarding many of the matters before The Association, it is necessary that there should be some agency through which research work should be conducted. This is the function of the Research Bureau, and its services are therefore more directly useful to the Committees and the Board of Directors than to the individual members. Many of the major activities of The Association during the year have been based upon investigations and research conducted through this Bureau. A careful reading of the Bureau's report is therefore urged.

A number of important subjects are treated therein, such as the matter of the St. Lawrence Improvement project; a study of the State Barge Canal facilities; Postal improvements; transit reform; graduated gas rates; the Muscle Shoals project; Charter revision; Port development; harbor, docks and terminal facilities; Federal taxation, and other legislative matters.

(E.) Convention Bureau.

An average of nearly two conventions for each day of the week, except Sundays, throughout the year under review was held in New York City. In other words, there was a total of 602 conventions during the year. These conventions brought to the City some 420,000 people, who, estimating upon a minimum basis of expenditure, disbursed in this City approximately $25,000,000.

Digitized by Google

In consequence of the efforts of The Association, through this Bureau, 88 of those conventions were secured for New York City, which brought to the City over 60,000 desirable visitors who would have gone elsewhere had it not been for the activities of The Association.

There is considerable opportunity for members to develop business with the delegates who come to attend these conventions. Advance information relative to these meetings often may be secured from the Convention Bureau, the records of which are always open for the information of members.

(F.) Legislative Service Bureau.

The Association's service through this Bureau was utilized by members during the year to the extent of 1,484 specific requests for information. Of these 223 related to Federal Laws, 516 to bills pending in Congress, 147 to State Laws, 133 to bills pending in the State Legislature, 59 to City ordinances and 416 to subjects of a miscellaneous character.

There were examined and reviewed by the Bureau 3,096 bills and 47 resolutions introduced during the 1922 Session of the State Legislature, 672 new State laws, 238 new Federal laws, 31 new City ordinances and more than 600 bills introduced in Congress.

Through the columns of "Greater New York" analysis of 49 of the laws enacted by the 1921 Legislature and approved during May, 1921, of 222 of the bills introduced in the 1922 Session, and of 85 of the new laws enacted and approved during the 1922 session, were brought directly to the attention of the members of The Association. Of the bills pending in the 1922 Session, The Association actively supported 10, of which 6 became law and 4 failed of enactment, and opposed 10, of which not one was passed, all failing of enactment.

(G.) Anti-Litter Bureau.

On September 1, 1921, the Manager of the Anti-Litter Bureau resigned. This position was not filled until January 3, 1922, when Mr. W. S. McGrane was appointed. There was therefore a period of four months in the middle of the year under review during which the office of Manager was vacant.

In spite of this fact, the volume and character of work of The Association conducted through its Bureau has been very gratifying. The purpose of this activity is, first to cooperate with the City Departments in an effort to secure a more cleanly, pleasing and healthful condition of the City's streets and parks, and second, and even more important, through cooperation with the Department of Education, to train the high school children of the City to a conception and a habit of civic tidiness. How successfully the work in these respects has been accomplished is set forth in the report of the Manager of the Bureau.

It is interesting to note that during the year cooperation in this movement has been given by the Fifth Avenue Association, the Broadway Association, The Broadway Merchants' Association of Brooklyn, the Boy Scouts of America, The Woman's Municipal League, The Greenpoint Chamber of Commerce and other organizations; that there has been a total of 7,881 block captains cooperating in this work, and that there were received during the year 23,703 complaints. Of these complaints 18,945 were attended to by the block captains themselves, and 5,658 were handled through the Bureau office.

The Manager made fifty addresses this year before the students of high schools, aggregating 31,250. Of these students thus addressed 19,900 were studying civics, and from that number 5,870 volunteered as block captains.

Through the instrumentality of this Bureau The Association has cooperated actively with the City Departments in connection with the "Clean-Up Week" plan; the bettering of push-cart market conditions; the distribution of abstracts of City Ordinances; the protection of parks; the prevention of spitting in public places; the prevention of littering and blocking fire escapes; the reporting of fire hazards, broken fire alarm boxes, etc., and the reporting of hydrants out of order, etc.

The splendid spirit with which the heads of City Departments have received this cooperation is to be highly commended.

(H.) Publicity Bureau.

Due to the peculiar economic and business conditions existing during the year under review the opportunities of service by The Association have related primarily to the important, but less spectacular, lines of service activities for its members, which do not carry as much of news interest as do activities of a more specialized or occasional character.

From the attached report of the Manager of the Publicity Bureau, it will be noted that the activities of The Association were brought to public notice through the medium of the press an average of almost nine times each day in the year. Articles devoted to discussion of The Association or its activities numbered 3,109, which filled 15,561 inches of space, amounting to 741 newspaper columns. This is an average of 14 columns per week. Of these 15,561 inches, 9,198 appeared in New York City papers and 2,499 in out-of-town papers, while there were 1,407 inches of editorials and 2,394 inches in the trade press.

This cooperation, so splendidly given, is entitled to sincere and hearty thanks from the organization and it members.

The Association's weekly publication, "Greater New York," through which the organization keeps its members informed of what it is doing, was published in 46 issues, with a total of 664 pages, and with a complete Index.

(I.) Membership Bureau.

The severe trade depression which existed throughout the year reflected itself somewhat in the membership of The Association. At the close of that year there were 6,174 members, as compared with 6,764 at the close of the previous year. The net loss of approximately 9 per cent. is largely due to liquidations, voluntary or involuntary, and to many consolidations of several business units engaged in the same line of activity into one stronger organization.

There were elected during the year 230 new members and 198 resignations were withdrawn, making a total of membership increase and maintenance of 428. This result was accomplished under very trying business conditions and by strictly non-intensive methods. There were 838 removed from the roll of membership.

The new membership falls under 40 of the 47 main divisions covering the classification of the complete enrollment, and is segregated into 84 of the 157 different subdivisions under the main divisions. This indicates that the new membership, although relatively small, is broadly representative of the City's business.

It is interesting to note that this total membership of 6,174 consists of more than 6,000 different business units in the City. Further, it is interesting to observe that the membership consists very largely of firms and corporations in which there is an average of at least three business men who are directly interested. It is therefore evident that approximately 20,000 prominent business men in the City of New York are actively interested in the work of The Association.

(J.) Library.

The volumes in the Library of the Association have increased during the year from 18,297 at the beginning of the year to 18,465. This increase is brought about by the addition of 649 new volumes, which have been catalogued, and 16 new volumes received but not catalogued at the close of the year, or a total of 665 new volumes. There were, however, withdrawn from the shelves 497 obsolete and useless volumes.

By cooperation with the Special Libraries Association, access to 247 special libraries throughout New York City is secured. There were received by the Library 1,733 requests for information covering many and various subjects, all of which requests were promptly complied with. The character of these inquiries, which came principally from members, is indicated in the report of the Librarian.

The card index system, containing a digest and references to every action taken by The Association, now comprises 23,328 cards, bearing 45,730 entry references. This index makes possible immediate access to the complete record of each of The Association's actions taken through its Board of Directors, Executive and other Committees, and to the activities of the Members' Council and The Association's Bureaus.

(K.) General Office.

THE general office of The Association, comprising the Financial, Filing and Stenographic Bureaus, the Mailing Department, the Addressing Department and the telephone switchboard, operates under the supervision and direction of the Assistant to the Secretary. The staff of that office has been maintained upon the usual high plane of efficiency.

The volume of mail dispatched from The Association office during the year comprised 151,394 letters, 15,190 circular and form letters, and 4,989 packages. In addition to the foregoing mail matter, 429,837 copies of the weekly bulletin,

"Greater New York," were mailed, making a total of 601,410 pieces mailed during the year.

OFFICE STAFF

CONDITIONS which made desirable the application of carefully determined economies throughout the business world were recognized in the management of The Association during the year, with the result that there was some decrease in the number comprising the office staff of The Association. This decrease was accomplished, in practically every instance, by refraining from filling vacancies as they occurred through resignations, so that no personal hardships resulted to individual staff members. The average number of members employed on the staff throughout the year and assigned to its various departments, was 74, distributed as follows:

FINANCIAL STATUS

IN view of the period of general business depression existing throughout the year under review it is gratifying to report that the finances of The Association during the entire period have been in a sound condition, and that the revenues of the year have been sufficient to defray all the expenses of The Association for the year.

REFERENDA FROM THE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

THE Association was entitled to cast ten ballots upon each of the four Referenda submitted by the Chamber of Commerce of the United States of America, of which The Association is a constituent member.

The action taken by The Association upon each of these Referenda is as follows:

No. 35.—On the Report of the Committee on Budget and Efficiency Regarding Government Employees.

This Referendum contained nine propositions dealing with the recasting of the system under which personnel for the Federal Civil Service is secured and managed, adequate and uniform pay, reclassification, promotion, inclusion of administrative officials not responsible for determining policies under civil service rule, regulation of transfers between departments, development of efficiency records and removal of an employee.

The Association referred the Referendum to a special Committee composed of former Cabinet and Federal executive officials. Acting upon the recommendations of the special Committee, The Association cast ten ballots in favor of seven of the nine propositions.

The Committee objected to Proposition No. 5, regarding promotions, in the form stated, as tending "to procedure so rigid as to preclude advancement for special merit," and to Proposition No. 9, recommending the development of efficiency methods. The Association accordingly cast ten votes in opposition to each of these two propositions.

No. 36.—Regarding Forms of Taxation.

Two propositions were submitted in this Referendum, upon each of which the ten ballots of The Association were cast in the affirmative

This decision was reached after two tests of sentiment of the membership of The Association. One of these took the form of a hearing by The Association's Committee on Taxation, the second was made by sending a postal card ballot to each member. As a result The Association declared in favor of a Sales Tax upon every turnover of goods, wares and merchandise, provided the revenue needed by the Government can be raised from such a tax at a rate of approximately one-half of one per cent.

No. 37.—On the Report of the Committee on Tariff principles.

Eight propositions were submitted in this referendum. The Association cast its ten votes in favor of three of the propositions and refrained from voting upon the remaining five.

The propositions approved recommended the adjustment of tariff rates by administrative authorities under certain conditions and within prescribed limits, the creation of a tariff adjustment board, and the framing and administering of tariff legislation with a view to meeting discriminations by other countries against American trade

The five remaining propositions, upon which The Association refrained from voting, dealt with subjects involving questions of tariff construction upon which subjects it is the established policy of The Association to take no action.

No. 38.—On Legislation for Veterans of the World War.

This Referendum contained four propositions and was referred by The Association to its Military Committee.

On recommendation of the Committee the ten ballots of The Association were cast in favor of Proposition No. 3 regarding legislation and appropriations to enable ex-service men to obtain vocational education, and in opposition to Propositions Nos. 1, 2 and 4, dealing, respectively, with a national system of reclamation to be initiated through Federal appropriations to afford ex-service men an opportunity to cultivate the soil, legislation and appropriations to enable ex-service men to build homes, and legislation for a general bonus.

CHARITABLE SUBSCRIPTIONS

During the year the availability of the services of the Bureau of Advice and Information of the Charity Organization Society and of the National Information Bureau was continued for the members without charge. The Bureau of Advice and Information reports primarily upon local charities seeking contributions from business men, while the National Information Bureau gives information relative to organizations, other than local charities, seeking subscriptions.

Digitized by Google

In the year under review 782 reports to 370 members of The Association were furnished by the Bureau of Advice and Information of the Charity Organization Society, and 220 Reports to 197 members of The Association, together with 24 reports directly to The Association office, were rendered by the National Information Bureau. This latter Bureau, therefore, rendered a total of 244 reports, which covered 177 different organizations. This aggregates 1,026 reports rendered directly or indirectly for 567 members.

There were published in "Greater New York" forty-six articles, prepared by the Bureau of Advice and Information of the Charity Organization Society, concerning specific fake charities or illustrating the improper methods in connection with efforts to secure contributions.

Permit me to urge upon the members of The Association a broader utilization of this service furnished by their organization. It provides an opportunity intelligently to ascertain the "bona fides" of solicitations, and to form a judgment as to the worthiness of the causes for which contributions are sought.

INTERNATIONAL CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

PERHAPS the most important movement looking to a better understanding between the business men of different nations and to a common ground of practice based upon such understanding, which has been initiated since the war for the development of world commerce, is the International Chamber of Commerce. The Association actively participated in all the preliminary steps leading up to the creation of that International Chamber at a meeting held in Paris in June, 1920, and was represented by the ten delegates to which it was entitled at the first annual meeting of that Chamber, which was held in London in June, 1921.

At the time of organization the membership consisted of business representatives from the five principal allied nations. At the London meeting in June, 1921, the number of countries represented by actual membership was twelve, while the total number participating in that meeting by membership and by invitation was thirty-six. On April 30, 1922, twenty-eight countries of the world were actually represented in the membership of the International Chamber. This growth indicates that the need of the extension into world relations of the commercial organization idea as developed in the United States is generally appreciated by business wherever located.

At the London meeting there were about four hundred delegates, of which one hundred and ninety-six came from the United States. The recognized leaders of business, economics and finance in the various countries were included among these delegates. The study of problems common to all was divided into five groups; namely, (1) finance, including exchange, double taxation, export credits, treatment of foreign banks and bills of exchange; (2) production, including economy of fuel, standardization, industrial and commercial freedom, raw materials, industrial sections, construction and statistics; (3) distribution, including arbitration, arbitage, international protection of industrial property, trademarks, unification of tariff nomenclature, reciprocity of treatment for commercial travelers, embargoes on imports and exports, and reform of the calendar;

Digitized by Google

(4) transportation, including approval of the declaration put forth at the Barcelona Conference on freedom of communications and transit, improvements in channel tunnel and sea train ferries, freight train service, and telegraph and telephone facilities, unification of commercial practice, free zones, international postal service and passport fees; (5) devastated regions, including particularly consideration of the matter of restoration of the devastated regions and relief for Poland. The conclusions reached by that meeting upon these subjects are set forth in detail in the issue of "Greater New York" of July 25, 1921.

The second annual meeting of the International Chamber is scheduled to be held in Rome in March, 1923.

COOPERATION WITH OTHER BODIES

ACTIVE organization membership was continued by The Association, during the year, in the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, in the New York State Waterways Association devoted primarily to the development and utilization of the waterways of the State, and in the New York State Waterways Conference, an organization for the purpose of giving accurate information as to facts underlying the proposition to create the so-called St. Lawrence deep waterway project.

It also participated in the National Foreign Trade Conference held in May under the auspices of the National Foreign Trade Council, and in the joint meeting held in November by the Academy of Political Science and the Industrial Relations Association of America. In connection with the National Police Conference held in this City under invitation from Police Commissioner Enright, The Association tendered to the representatives of police departments from various cities of the country attending the conference a luncheon and entertainment.

The Association is frequently cooperating with and inviting the cooperation of other chambers of commerce and commercial organizations on various specific matters.

IMMIGRATION AND NATURALIZATION

THROUGH the Committee on Immigration and Naturalization, a study was made of the physical facilities and the methods of operation of the immigration station at Ellis Island. It was found that these facilities were in many respects inadequate and that improved methods of operation, including the elimination of grafting upon the immigrants, should be installed. Concrete information and recommendations were presented to the immigration authorities and active cooperation was given by The Association to those authorities with the result that great improvements were perfected during the year. In this connection The Association was active in cooperation with other bodies in the City in bringing about a better coordination of the various instrumentalities existing here for the Americanization and education of immigrants. Attention was also given to and recommendations made concerning improvements in connection with naturalization of aliens.

PROTECTION OF INDUSTRIAL PROPERTY

RECOGNIZING that one of the chief elements of value in a valid patent is the protection which is thereby given to American products when transported to foreign markets, The Association, through its Committee on the Protection of Industrial Property, has conducted many activities. It was instrumental in assisting to secure necessary appropriations to preserve and improve the quality of personnel and efficiency of service in the United States Patent Office; it urged upon the United States Government the renewal of the treaty with Germany, which was suspended by the war, in accordance with the provisions in the Peace Treaty, and it actively opposed pending legislation to provide for compulsory licensing or the compulsory working of patents, which provision would do violence to the fundamental principles underlying the system of American patent law jurisprudence.

CENTRALIZED STATE PURCHASING DEPARTMENT

THE Association took an active and leading part in supporting the recommendation made by Governor Miller for the creation of a Centralized State Purchasing Department and a State Board of Estimate and Control, the establishment and operation of which would, as shown by the Governor, result in avoidance of waste, greater efficiency and very large economy in the purchasing of supplies for State uses. In this matter The Association invited and received the active cooperation of many chambers of commerce throughout the State in support of the legislation designed to effect that purpose. This legislation was enacted and these departments are now in process of organization.

CHARTER REVISION

THROUGH its Committee on City Government, The Association has tendered to the Charter Revision Commission cooperation in connection with the pending revision of the Charter of New York City. As a distinct contribution to this movement, The Association has caused to be prepared and has furnished to that Commission a digest or synopsis of the provisions of the present Charter and of each of the hitherto proposed or contemplated revisions thereto. This has brought together into one volume for easy reference much of the basic material which must be studied and considered by that Commission.

DISARMAMENT CONFERENCE

CONSISTENT with its previous policy and declarations, The Association recommended to the delegates representing the United States at the Washington Disarmament Conference, that drastic and radical reductions in expenditures by nations for military and naval purposes were both desirable and necessary. Subsequent to the very successful conclusion of that Conference, The Association strenuously urged ratification of the so-called Four Power Treaties which were agreed to at that Conference.

GAS RATES

IN the year under review a special committee of The Association was created for the purpose of investigating and reporting with recommendations regarding the present method of fixing the price of gas to large and small consumers and the proper segregation of charges for service and quantity consumed. This matter was taken up on the request of a considerable number of members of The Association. It was thoroughly analyzed, a concrete basis for a fair segregation of such charges was devised and the whole matter was taken before the Public Service Commission where it is now pending for determination. This subject is more fully treated in the report of the Director of Research.

AERONAUTICS

DURING the year a new standing committee on the subject of aeronautics was created for the purpose, first, of studying this new science, its development and its possible application for commercial transportation and national defense, and second, of being the agency through which The Association may actively cooperate with other bodies in connection with this matter. This step was taken because the possibilities of practical commercial aeronautical service is in itself important, and also because the development in this country of a knowledge of that science and an equipment for the actual production of air craft is in the opinion of The Association essential as a matter of national defense.

SYRACUSE STATE FAIR

PERHAPS the most representative and interesting exhibit of the agricultural, stock raising and breeding industry of the State of New York is given at the annual State Fair held at Syracuse. As an evidence of the interest which the merchants of the City of New York take in this fundamental State industry, The Merchants' Association presented a cup as a prize for the winner in the Empire State 2:12 Trot at that annual fair in 1921.

TAXICAB DRIVERS

DURING the year The Association has cooperated in the effort to promote the safety of the public in the use of taxicabs by securing better provisions for the licensing and better control of taxicab drivers. The effort has been along the line of securing provisions which would eliminate the criminal, the drug fiend and the incompetent from offering this type of public service. The Association also supported the legislation to place the control and responsibility for the licensing of taxicab drivers under the jurisdiction of the Police Department.

CUSTOMS SERVICE AND ADMINISTRATION

THROUGHOUT the year The Association has been very active through its Committee on Customs Service and Administration in the effort to secure provisions in the administrative features of the pending tariff bill which in operation would be fair to all parties interested, including the Government, and would maintain efficiency in administration. These matters particularly had to do with a provision for reimbursement to owners for merchandise lost while in the Government custody for the purposes of appraisal; the form and provisions of bonds required on entering merchandise; the assessment of duties upon American goods returned to the United States; the change in the designation of the present "Naval Officer of Customs" to "Comptroller of Customs" and elimination of needless duplication in the audits of the Comptroller's accounts; the maintenance of salaries for civilian positions in the service on a basis which would retain efficient employees, and the continuance of the system of permitting importers to hold informal conferences regarding value with Government appraisers prior to making entry.

COMMERCIAL FRAUDS

BECAUSE of the apparently increasing number of commercial frauds and the delay in bringing indicted cases to trial in the courts, The Association, through its Committee on Commercial Law, made a study of this situation and cooperated with the Federal and County district attorneys in certain readjustments of methods of procedure designed to effect more speedy and conclusive handling of such cases.

FOREIGN TRADE

IN addition to the activities previously mentioned in this report relating to the development of foreign trade, The Association, during the year, has cooperated with other organizations in the effort to standardize the terms commonly used in letters of credit relating to international business; has advocated before Congress the granting of sufficient appropriations to make efficient the operations of the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce of the Department of Commerce; has studied and approved the principles underlying the ter Meulen bond plan for international credits; has cooperated with the authorities in an effort to control the practice of exacting gratuities in connection with the movement of merchandise through the Port of New York; has cooperated with other bodies in this City in a movement addressed to reducing pilferage of ocean-going shipments; has urged upon the authorities the importance of the consummation of important commercial treaties especially with Germany, and has actively supported the bill pending in Congress to provide for the establishment and operation of foreign trade zones in ports of entry in the United States.

LOADING GOODS ON STEAMSHIP PIERS

IN this Port a practice has arisen whereby men known as "loaders" have stationed themselves upon the steamship piers, offering their services to load goods from the pier floor to trucks. This is oftentimes a very desirable and necessary facility for the receivers of goods, but the system had not become standardized and was operating in a highly discriminatory manner both as to compensation demanded and as to respect for the rights of shippers to load their own goods if they so desired.

During the year under review, The Association appointed a Committee, in which the other principal commercial organizations in the City were represented, for the purpose of analyzing this situation and, if possible, of bringing about a standardization of practice in connection therewith. This Committee first formulated a declaration of principles and succeeded in securing the earnest cooperation of the occupants or lessees of the steamship piers and of the Merchant Truckmen's Bureau, which latter comprises in its membership a very large proportion of all the truckmen in the City. From the results of conferences thus far had, as well as the results of conferences conducted by the Merchant Truckmen's Bureau with the representatives of the loaders' organizations, it would seem assured that concrete results in standardizing this practice and in securing the prevention of discrimination and intimidation will be attained.

TRANSPORTATION

DURING the year The Association has taken many important steps in connection with transportation problems in addition to those heretofore referred to in this report. It opposed the Capper bill pending before Congress designed to curtail the authority of the Interstate Commerce Commission; it opposed the bill to amend the Interstate Commerce Act by allowing carriers to reduce the rates of perishable food products, coal and building materials without the authority of the Interstate Commerce Commission; it asserted the right of the public to the continuous operation of transportation lines and condemned the failure of parties affected to accept the decisions of the Federal Railroad Board; it urged the repeal of the so-called New York Full Crew Law; it opposed the proposal of the Erie Railroad to restrict the movement of lumber for lighterage delivery in New York Harbor to points in Manhattan and Brooklyn; it cooperated in the proceedings before the Interstate Commerce Commission to compel the restoration by the American Railway Express Company of its service for delivery of fruit at its Duane Street Station, Pier 20, North River, without extra charge; it opposed before the Interstate Commerce Commission increased ferry charges proposed by the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad, and it opposed the proposition for increased terminal charges for handling fruits and vegetables at Duane Street.

MISCELLANEOUS ACTIVITIES

IT has been possible within the proper limits of this report to specify only the more important and outstanding activities and accomplishments. As indicative of the type and somewhat of the extent of the very many activities of The Association during the year which cannot be treated in extenso in this report, I would enumerate without comment the following:

The Association urged that the excess profits tax should be repealed and that the repeal should be made effective as from January 1, 1921; it opposed legislation designed to tax contracts for the sale of grain for future delivery and options for such contracts and to regulate boards of trade; it advocated legislation to empower farm loan banks to rediscount with Federal Reserve banks agricultural paper with maturities up to six months; it opposed the proposition to establish a National Highway Motor Transportation Board through which the Government would subscribe for stock in highway motor transportation corporations; it opposed the creation of additional holidays in the State of New York; it called upon business men and citizens as a matter of public duty cheerfully to serve on juries; it opposed the Duell Industrial Disputes Bill on the ground that instead of furthering the cause of industrial peace such measure, if enacted, would multiply and increase strife; it opposed a bill in the State Legislature designed to impose a tax of one per cent. on insurance written with non-registered companies; it opposed State legislation designed to give veterans preference under the Civil Service laws; it protested against exemptions to labor unions from the operation of the provisions of the Anti-trust law; it advocated the enactment of legislation in this State to enable the State to furnish to the United States the right of way necessary for the elimination of the bend in the Harlem Ship Canal; it opposed State legislation designed to prohibit stock corporations and mutual associations from writing workmen's compensation insurance; it opposed a proposed City ordinance requiring the installation of a device for shutting off gas from buildings in case of fire, for which purpose only one type of device is available; it advocated legislation to increase salaries pertaining to the offices of Mayor, Comptroller and President of the Board of Aldermen in this City; it sought repeal of the ordinance requiring all hoisting machinery used in construction work to be in charge of licensed engineers; it opposed legislation authorizing the construction of the so-called Tri-Borough Bridge; it advocated and urged the speedy completion of the Fourteenth Street and Eastern District subway; it assisted in finding new pier facilities for the Savannah Line to take the place of the old pier facilities now being used in connection with the construction of the New York-New Jersey vehicular tunnel; it tendered cooperation to the Health Commissioner in recruiting and operating a trucking fleet to insure prompt and regular supply of food in the event of a railroad strike, and it endorsed and supported an amendment proposed by Senator Kenyon to the Federal Constitution to permit the President to veto separate items in appropriation bills.

While it is to be regretted that space does not permit of greater amplification of these activities, nevertheless, the mere enumeration thereof will convey to the members of The Assosciation some comprehension of the diversity and extent of the services which their Association is performing.

"GREATER NEW YORK"

FROM week to week details concerning the operations of The Association in all the various respects mentioned in this report are conveyed to the members through the columns of "Greater New York," the weekly publication.

Digitized by Google

Permit me, therefore, to take this occasion to emphasize the importance, both from the standpoint of the organization itself and from the standpoint of the individual members, of a careful examination by each member of each issue of "Greater New York" as it appears. In addition to a comprehensive understanding of the breadth and value of The Association's work, each member by examination of "Greater New York" will almost surely receive suggestions as to ways in which his Association may be of direct service to him.

CONCLUSION

BROAD and useful as the services of The Association have been during the past year, it is certain that under the business rehabilitation upon which we are now entering, wider opportunities for service of even greater value lie before the organization. Experience has demonstrated the need for cooperation and the beneficial result from the coordination of effort exercised by business units through the medium of an effective business organization.

More fully to grasp these coming opportunities, to meet that need and to secure these benefits, there should be an even broader and more representative membership, with an increased consciousness of solidarity and an animating spirit of service.

In closing, it is a pleasure to report and record appreciation of the efficiency and loyalty of the members of The Association's staff.

Respectfully submitted,

S. C. MEAD,
Secretary.

REPORT OF THE TRAFFIC BUREAU

May 1, 1922.

Mr. S. C. Mead, Secretary,
The Merchants' Association of New York.

DEAR SIR:

HEREWITH is submitted a review of the activities of The Association through the Traffic Bureau for the year ended April 30, 1922.

Transportation Committee.

THE work of The Association, through the Traffic Bureau, was conducted under the general supervision of the Transportation Committee, composed of:

MR. CHARLES S. KEENE, Chairman;
MR. JOHN F. FOWLER,
MR. C. F. GREGORY,
*MR. JOHN G. LUKE,
MR. WALDO H. MARSHALL,
MR. DANIEL P. MORSE,
MR. E. C. POTTER, JR.,
MR. RALPH S. STUBBS.

(*Deceased)

The Committee reviews and gives special consideration to matters of public interest, namely: (a) transportation matters which are of general interest to members as affecting the trade and welfare of New York; (b) proposed legislation, involving State, interstate and foreign transportation; (c) remedial legislation which may be found necessary in the protection of the public in transportation matters. Upon these subjects it renders its recommendations to the Directors.

Functions of the Traffic Bureau.

THE Traffic Bureau is the instrument through which The Association conducts its activities in transportation matters and carries out the recommendations of the Transportation Committee after approval by the Directors.

Upon this Bureau devolves the duty of conducting on behalf of The Association, where the public interest is involved, negotiations with carriers pertaining to rate adjustments, rules and regulations; appearances before the Interstate Commerce Commission and the State Public Service Commission; and before legislative committees on proposed legislation involving transportation matters.

The Traffic Bureau is likewise the medium through which The Association handles routine matters of general interest to the shipping public. It covers the entire transportation field, involving rate adjustments, classification of freight, rules and regulations pertaining to the receipt, transportation, delivery and storage of freight, car service, and rates and service rendered to passengers.

Traffic Bureau Manager.

THE Traffic Manager devotes the greater part of his time to the handling of transportation questions of general interest to all shippers; questions involving railroad policy as affecting New York which come before the carrier organizations; hearings before legislative bodies, and the handling of proceedings before the Interstate Commerce Commission. As proceedings before the Commission are conducted along judicial lines, it is necessary for the Traffic Manager to supervise the preparation of petitions and arrange for appearance in pending cases before the Commission; also to arrange for presentation of testimony, arguments, briefs and other details in connection with the conduct of such cases, as well as to conduct the oral arguments before the Commission.

Membership Assistance.

WHILE the primary object of The Association in dealing with transportation matters is to promote the trade and welfare of New York, in pursuance of which policy it has to deal with transportation questions of general interest to all shippers, and questions involving public policy, The Association is not unmindful of the interests of the individual member.

Many questions arise with members which involve the interpretation of the Act to Regulate Commerce; administrative rulings and orders issued by the Commission involving transportation; interpretation of the Shipping Act; technical cases involving the interpretation of bill of lading conditions, rates, rules and regulations of carriers, and the adjustment of claims. With a complete development of the facts The Association has not found it difficult to harmonize these differences and has enabled members to avoid the necessity of bringing complaints or filing suits.

In addition to encouraging the use of the Bureau by members on matters pertaining to transportation, the Traffic Bureau furnishes advice and assistance to members on methods to be employed for the supervision of their transportation requirements. That the service is of value and has proven beneficial is evidenced by the volume of the calls upon the Bureau by members for advice and by the many expressions of appreciation and good will received from those assisted.

The following table constitutes a summary of the matters handled by the Traffic Bureau:

To illustrate the diversified nature of matters on which members apply for advice or assistance, an appendix is attached to this report.

Rates from Eastern Points to Virginia Cities and Carolina Points.

ON the complaint of the Corporation Commission of North Carolina vs. Director-General A. C. L. R. R. et al. that the rate adjustments between Eastern port cities on the one hand and the Virginia cities and Carolina points on the other were unduly prejudicial to North Carolina points and unduly preferential to Norfolk and Richmond, the Commission found in favor of the complainants and prescribed the maximum relationship which should be observed (57 I. C. C., 523, and 62 I. C. C., 64).

As the order of the Commission did not fix the specific rates to be applied but did fix the relationship of the rates, the carriers representing the territory involved called a conference between their representatives and interested shippers at Washington, D. C., in July, 1921, for the purpose of discussing the rates they proposed.

Material increases were proposed in the rates from Atlantic port cities and interior Eastern points to Richmond and Norfolk, with both advances and reductions from Eastern points to Carolina destinations. Numerous objections were presented by the shippers to the rates proposed, particularly with respect to the rates to Richmond and Norfolk, Va., with the result that the carriers agreed to recast their proposed rates for submission at a later conference.

At the adjourned conference held at New York in September, 1921, it developed that serious complications would arise in converting the rates from the port cities to Richmond and Norfolk from the Southern to the Official Classification basis, and that considerable disturbance in rate relationships would be created by adoption of the shippers' proposals. As the conference was unable to compose its differences, and as the carriers under the Commission's order were required to establish the rates promptly, arrangements were made for a joint conference between Committees representing the shippers and carriers and the Director of Traffic of the I. C. C.

At this conference, held at Washington, a compromise agreement was reached with the understanding that negotiations would be promptly conducted between shippers' and carriers' committees to determine upon a satisfactory adjustment of the Richmond-Norfolk rates.

The Traffic Manager was in attendance at these various conferences, and his views very largely prevailed in the solution finally reached. The all-water rates were left undisturbed.

Trans-continental Rates.

THIS is a proceeding before the Interstate Commerce Commission on the application of the Trans-continental Railroads for authority to establish "all-rail" reduced or subnormal rates upon a large number of important commodities produced in the Eastern territory to the Pacific Coast ports in competition with the carriers by water operating through the Panama Canal without the observance by the rail carriers of the long and short haul rule. The application seeks the establishment of the proposed rates as "blanket" rates from all points east of the Mississippi River to the Pacific Coast ports. An analysis of the rates proposed by the carriers indicates that many of the rates, especially from Central territory, are less than would be compelled by actual water competition, and if established, the sources of supply upon which the Pacific Coast cities now draw would be transferred from the Eastern territory to more Western points of production.

The interest of the Eastern cities lies in the fact that the proposal of the all-rail carriers to establish rates on the basis of "market competition" would in part nullify the advantages accruing to the Atlantic port cities by reason of their location on the coast, and the proposed rates would divert freight from Eastern territory to manufacturers and jobbers located in Central territory. The intermountain cities are likewise protesting the establishment of these low through rates to the Pacific port cities, thereby preferring those cities in the distribution of goods in the far West.

The initial hearing in this very important proceeding was held at Chicago, Illinois, the week of November 14, 1921. Further hearings were held at various points in the West and on the Pacific Coast, with a final hearing at New York the week of January 23, 1922.

With the view of protecting the interests of the Port of New York and for the development of necessary facts for the guidance of the Commission in rendering its decision, the Traffic Manager attended the Chicago and New York hearings.

The tentative report of the Examiner who heard the testimony is favorable to the position taken by The Merchants' Association of New York. The Commission has not yet rendered its report.

Fruit and Vegetables. Handling of at Duane Street Station. (Erie Railroad.)

THE Erie Railroad Company issued tariffs to become effective with October 14, 1921, proposing to establish terminal charges ranging from 2½ to 4 cents per 100 pounds on citrus fruits and apples, deciduous fruit and cantaloupes, melons and vegetables, delivered at its Duane Street terminal, New York. It also simultaneously issued a tariff providing for an increase in the proportional rates upon fruit and vegetables in carloads from the Jersey City terminals of the Erie Railroad to the Duane Street Station from $30.00 to $51.00 per car.

On the protest of The Merchants' Association and other organizations interested in the fruit and vegetable trade in New York, that the proposed rates and charges were unreasonable and unlawful, the tariffs were suspended by the Commission, pending hearing and investigation.

The hearing on the issues involved was held at Washington, November, 1921, for the taking of testimony. The Traffic Manager submitted brief for The Association on December 26, 1921, and on January 11, 1922, participated in oral argument before the Commission in Washington in protest against the carriers' proposals.

The Association's position in this case was fully sustained by the Commission. The total savings to shippers or receivers of fruit and vegetables at Duane Street, based upon the volume of traffic handled in 1920, is $157,575.00.

Fruit and Vegetables, Carload. Handling of by Express.

FOR many years the Duane Street station of the Erie Railroad Company was used as a receiving depot for fruits and vegetables moving in carloads over the Erie Railroad via Express from Far Western producing points.

In February, 1921, the American Railway Express announced that beginning with March 1, 1921, the carload commodity rate in connection with express movement over the Erie Railroad would be limited in its application to Jersey City. The Company concurrently announced that if wagon delivery was desired at Manhattan it would be performed at an additional rate of 20 cents per 100 pounds, or if consignees preferred to have cars lightered to Duane Street and arrangements were made with the Erie Railroad for such lighterage delivery would be made at Duane Street station subject to charges of the Erie Railroad for the flotage service, and that the Company no longer would absorb the flotage charge.

Notwithstanding vigorous protests by New York receivers and Western shippers, the Express Company refused to recede from its position.

Formal complaint before the Interstate Commerce Commission was filed by the American Fruit and Vegetable Shippers' Association, the California Fruit distributers and others directly concerned in the movements of California fruits and vegetables to New York.

As affecting the food supply of New York, and in the interest of the receivers at New York, The Association, through its Traffic Manager, filed an intervening petition in the case.

The case was assigned for hearing at the offices of The Merchants' Association on September 28, 1921. After a very brief session the case was postponed for further hearing. The case is now pending before the Commission.

Constructive Mileage. Poughkeepsie Bridge Route.

THE New Haven Railroad issued tariff proposing to amend its mileage tables by increasing the mileage between points on the Central New England Railroad line, west of the Hudson River and stations in New England, by the addition of 100 miles to the actual mileage, said 100 miles being adopted as a constructive mileage basis for the Poughkeepsie Bridge. On the protest of the Boston Chamber of Commerce and other interests making use of the Poughkeepsie route, the tariff was suspended by the Interstate Commerce Commission, pending hearing and investigation.

While the establishment of the proposed basis via the Poughkeepsie Bridge would not involve the adjustment of rates between New York and New England points, it was felt that the establishment of the basis might involve as a precedent the employment of a constructive mileage basis for the lighterage of freight in New York harbor or the use of the Hell Gate Bridge. For the protection of the interests of New York City as they might be disclosed during the investigation, The Merchants' Association of New York entered its appearance at the hearing and was represented by the Traffic Manager.

The Commission found the proposed schedules were not justified and ordered their cancellation.

Rates between New England Points and Long Island Railroad Stations.

THE New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad Company issued supplements to existing tariffs cancelling the joint class rates between New England points and stations on the Long Island Railroad in the Borough of Queens via New York Connecting Railroad. The cancellation of such rates would make effective a combination of rates higher than rates to points of greater distance over the same route, in violation of the long and short haul rule, and would also have the effect of establishing rates which would be unreasonable and discriminative.

On the protest of The Merchants' Association, the Brooklyn Chamber of Commerce and other commercial bodies, the tariffs proposing to increase the rates were suspended by the Interstate Commerce Commission pending hearing and investigation.

Hearing thereon was held in the Assembly Room of The Association in December, 1921. With the completion of testimony the case was submitted to the Commission on briefs. A brief was filed on behalf of The Association by the Traffic Bureau in opposition to the proposed increase. Cancellation of through rates was found not justified and suspended schedules were ordered canceled.

General Revision of Rates.

FOR the purpose of determining whether and to what extent, if any, further general reduction in rates, fares and charges of carriers by railroad can lawfully be required by the order of the Commission in December, 1921, the Interstate Commerce Commission entered upon a general investigation. The hearings were continued throughout the months of January and February, 1922. For the protection of the trade of New York the Traffic Manager was in attendance at the December hearings, and at various times during the progress of subsequent hearings, to develop the essential facts as a guide to the Commission in the rendering of its decision.

Iron and Steel Articles for Export.

THE Trunk Line Association held a hearing in August, 1921, on proposal of carriers to establish "export" rates to the Atlantic ports on iron and steel articles for "export" on the basis of a reduction of 25 per cent. from the existing domestic rates, for the purpose of stimulating business and the meeting of foreign competition in foreign markets.

The Traffic Manager, in appearing in support of the proposal of the carriers, pointed out to the Committee that in order to avoid a disturbance in the differential relations at the Atlantic ports the reductions should be made based on the New York rate, observing the recognized differentials to the other Atlantic ports, and was advised this would be done.

Storage and Handling Charges on Westbound Freight at "Rail Termini."

THE Trunk Line Association held a public hearing on a proposal by carriers to increase by 100 per cent. the present charges for storage, handling and labor on westbound freight stored on the carriers' premises at "rail termini." In announcing the proposal the carriers alleged that it was to place these charges upon a closer parity with charges assessed by public warehousemen for similar service.

As the proposed increase would vitally affect the trade of many importers and shippers at New York, the Traffic Manager, on behalf of our importers and shippers, protested the imposition of any additional handling charges at this port, which would have the effect of favoring the outports. Largely due to this protest the increases were not made effective.

Free Lighterage on Import Shipments L. C. L.

THE Trunk Line Committee held a public hearing upon proposal by importers that the roads serving New York establish "free lighterage" in connection with the L. C. L. import shipments in lots of 10,000 pounds or more.

The proposal was made for the purpose of placing New York upon a closer parity with outports, such as Boston, Philadelphia and Baltimore, which ports have a material advantage over the Port of New York in the fact that direct delivery from vessel to rail carrier is made at those ports, with no lighterage service or trucking.

The Traffic Manager appeared at the hearing in support of the proposal, contending that in the interest of the importers at New York the Trunk Line carriers should afford relief from these charges in competition with the ports of Boston, Philadelphia and Baltimore.

Books; Carload Rating on in Southern Classification Territory.

A MEMBER of The Association publishing school and text books referred to the fact that no distinction was made in the rating upon carload and less than carload shipments of books moving into Southern Classification territory, first-class rates being assessed by the carriers in both cases. Books in carloads are rated at third-class in Eastern and Western territory.

This member was advised as to the proper method of procedure in bringing about the desired change, and it was suggested he secure cooperation from other book publishers. Following this recommendation, the data suggested by this Bureau was prepared and application for third-class carload rating was presented by the National Association of Book Publishers.

In July, 1921, the Consolidated Classification Committee held a public hearing upon this application, at which the Executive Secretary of the Book Publishers' Association and the Assistant Traffic Manager presented the case on behalf of the Book Publishers. Following the hearing the Bureau received notice from the Southern Classification Committee of the adoption of third-class ratings on books, magazines or periodicals in carloads moving in Southern territory.

At the hearing it developed that approximately 1,600 carloads of books move in Southern territory yearly. The saving to shippers will therefore be considerable, as the spread between first- and third-class rates is, in many cases, quite large.

Fibre and Straw Board Containers.

THE Consolidated Classification Committee held a public hearing at New York in September, 1921, on a proposal of carriers for changes in and additions to the shipping container rules and requirements as set forth in Rule 41 of the Consolidated Freight Classification.

The carriers' representative stated that the Classification Committee since 1908 had been trying to perfect the packages used in tendering shipments for transportation, and, while there had been no recent increase in the volume of loss and damage to shipments transported in fibre containers, the carriers had discovered that some of the smaller shippers were exceeding the weight limits prescribed in Rule 41.

Numerous industrial and commercial organizations were represented at the hearing, the Assistant Manager of the Traffic Bureau attending in the interest of the members of The Association. Shippers' representatives were unanimous in protesting proposed changes. The Association suggested that the use of inferior packages should be prohibited and the proper use of containers should be accomplished by inspection on the part of the carrier and not by placing undue and unnecessary burdens on the vast majority of shippers who were complying with present regulations, and whose containers adequately protected the goods tendered for transportation. The drastic changes proposed by carriers at that time were abandoned.

In renewal of its efforts to accomplish changes in the shipping container rules and requirements the Consolidated Classification Committee provided for hearing at Washington on March 29, 1922, on propositions for changes in the shipping container rules and requirements as provided for in Rule 41, Consolidated Freight Classification.

A preliminary meeting of representative manufacturers of fibre containers and shippers using such containers, members of The Merchants' Association, was held in the offices of The Association. The meeting disclosed that the users objected to the carriers' proposals upon the grounds:

(1) That the proposed changes would greatly increase the cost of containers and
(2) That a real need does not exist for additional protection against loss or damage to the extent proposed in the docket.

The Assistant Traffic Manager appeared before the Committee at the Washington hearing and presented the objections of the New York manufacturers and users. The Association took the position that the good of the greatest number of users of containers is conserved by the present requirements of Rule 41, and requested that the propositions for changes in and additions thereto, with the exception of the penalty charge, should be abandoned.

During April, 1922, the Bureau was advised by the Chairman of the Official Classification Committee as follows:

"As the result of consideration given to the various arguments presented owing entirely to the present business conditions, no material changes in Rule 41 will be authorized * * *."

Baggage Transfer Rates at New York.

BY reason of numerous complaints from members against the flat rate of $1.25 per trunk for the handling of baggage at New York established by the Public Service Commission of New York in 1920, The Merchants' Association of New York requested the Public Service Commission to reopen the case with a view to ascertaining whether or not existing conditions were sufficiently improved over the conditions existing in 1920 to justify a reduction in the rate. The Public Service Commission, due to numerous complaints filed with that body, instituted an investigation, and hearings were held in January, February and March, 1922. The Merchants' Association of New York, the National Council of Salesmen's Associations and the Hotel Men's Association of New York participated actively in an effort to develop the essential facts for the Commission's guidance in rendering its decision. The Assistant Manager of the Traffic Bureau presented various charts and evidence showing that the flat rate of $1.25 per trunk applicable for handling at New York between carriers' terminals and to and from railroad stations was far in excess of the rates charged in other leading cities for like service.

The Commission's order issued March 30, 1922, becoming effective with April 10, 1922, establishes eleven zones covering service in the five Boroughs, The order also established a basic rate of $1.00 per trunk and $0.75 per bag, as compared with the former rate of $1.25 per trunk and $0.90 per bag between points in the same zone. This reduction in rate is estimated to amount to about $40,000 per annum for each of the two baggage transfer companies involved.

Express Shipments; Packing Requirements.

RULE 18 of the Official Express Classification provided:

> "Unless otherwise specifically provided, packages weighing over 25 pounds will not be accepted if only paper-wrapped or in ordinary paper-board box, whether such box is wrapped or not wrapped (such shipments must be in boxes, barrels, crates, sacks, bales or trunks, etc. * * *)."

A member of The Association advised that his shipments range from 26 to 28 pounds, and by reason of the carriers' rule he was obliged to make two bundles or pack the goods in a box at a considerable additional expense.

The Traffic Bureau negotiated with the express company regarding the rule, with the result that the company agreed to modify its rule so as to extend the weight limit of paper wrapped packages from 25 pounds to 35 pounds, which revised rule has been embodied in the Express Classification.

The Hague Rules, 1921.

AT a joint meeting of the Foreign Trade and Transportation Committees of The Association held on April 25, 1922, consideration was given to the adoption by the United States of The Hague Rules, 1921, constituting a code of Rules defining risks to be assumed by ocean carriers. The following resolutions, recommended by the Joint Conference Committee for presentation to the Board of Directors for their approval, were adopted by the Board:

RESOLVED, That the Merchants' Association of New York endorses "The Hague Rules 1921" for application to the foreign commerce of the United States: be it further

RESOLVED, That The Merchants' Association of New York will take such further action with representative commercial bodies, with the Shipping Board and before Congress as may be deemed necessary to promote the adoption of "The Hague Rules 1921."

Great Lakes, Hudson and Atlantic Waterways Association.

WITH the withdrawal of Government operations upon the New York State Barge Canal and the declared policy of Congress to promote, encourage and develop water transportation, service and facilities in connection with the commerce of the United States, movements with a view to stimulating the use of American waterways sprang into existence.

The Great Lakes, Hudson and Atlantic Waterways Association was organized for the purpose of promoting the more intensive use of the Hudson River, the New York State Barge Canal and the Great Lakes. Its first convention was held at Buffalo, New York, June 29 and 30, 1921. The meeting proved to be most interesting. Your Traffic Manager was a member of a number of committees and engaged in the discussion as to the benefits from a transportation standpoint to be derived by the use ot the Barge Canal and the necessity of getting shippers "canal minded" so as to reap the benefits to be derived from the enormous expenditures made by the State of New York in the completion of the canal.

Miscellaneous.

IN addition to the above, the Traffic Bureau of The Merchants' Association participated in the following proceedings:

Ferry Rates of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad.

THIS is a proceeding before the Interstate Commerce Commission. An intervening petition was filed by The Association in support of the petition protesting the increased charges assessed for the handling of vehicular traffic.

New York Port Authority.

ON invitation of the New York Port Authority the Traffic Manager attended a hearing before that body in November, 1921, which was called for the purpose of discussing with the shippers and their representatives the Port situation, the causes of congestion and methods to be adopted in securing relief therefrom as a guide to the Port Authority in making its recommendation to the New York and New Jersey State Authorities upon the plan to be adopted.

"Shipper's Load and Count" Endorsement on Bills of Lading.

THE Traffic Manager appeared before the Committee on Commerce, Trade and Commercial Law of the American Bar Association on proposed amendments to the Federal Bill of Lading Act, with relation to the insertion in bills of lading of the words "Shipper's weight, load or count" where the property was loaded by the shipper on public team tracks or private tracks. The purpose of the proposed amendments is to secure clean bills of lading by requirement that the carriers check such freight so loaded.

Section 28, Merchant Marine Act.

A SUBCOMMITTEE representing the Shipping Board conducted a series of hearings for the purpose of determining the adequacy of the shipping facilities offered under the American Flag to permit the operation of Section 28 of the Merchant Marine Act providing for preferential rates.

The Traffic Manager attended the hearing held at New York in April, 1922, for the purpose of calling the attention of the committee to the troubles that would arise in the event Section 28 was enforced at one port and not at competing ports, as the enforcement of Section 28 might disrupt the normal flow of commerce through the different ports.

Discontinuance of Brooklyn Ferry Service.

A TRAFFIC BUREAU representative attended a meeting of the Board of Aldermen on April 4, 1922, at which the Brooklyn ferry service was fully discussed. The Board adopted a resolution authorizing the Commissioner of Plant and Structures to purchase the ferryboats at a cost not exceeding $350,000, and also referred to the Committee on Finance a request by the Commissioner of Plant and Structures for $329,960 to provide for the operation and maintenance of this service from May 1, 1922, to December 31, 1922.

Publicity.

THROUGH the columns of "Greater New York" the Traffic Bureau keeps the membership informed as to transportation matters of general public interest pending before the railroads, changes in rate structures, rules and regulations, and orders and opinions issued by the Commission.

The publication is used to disseminate advice to members on shipping and transportation conditions and special articles on transportation problems.

All members engaged in shipping are therefore urged carefully to examine each issue of "Greater New York" and place such information before their traffic or shipping departments.

Respectfully submitted,

J. C. LINCOLN,

Manager, Traffic Bureau.

REPORT OF THE FOREIGN TRADE BUREAU

May 1, 1922.

Mr. S. C. Mead, Secretary,

The Merchants' Association of New York.

DEAR SIR:

THE Association conducted the following individual activities through the Foreign Trade Bureau during the fiscal year ending April 30, 1922.

This Bureau is under the immediate supervision of the Foreign Trade Committee, the personnel of which, during the period covered was as follows:

LUCIUS R. EASTMAN, Chairman;
MAURICE COSTER,
E. A. DE LIMA,
WILLIAM H. DOUGLAS,
C. F. GREGORY,
FREDERICK D. HERBERT,
PHILIP B. KENNEDY,
M. A. OUDIN,
C. A. RICHARDS,
GEORGE H. RICHARDS,
HENRY F. SAMSTAG,
DONALD B. STEWART,
HENRY B. TWOMBLY,
GUSTAV VINTSCHGER.

Although operating under the Foreign Trade Committee, the wide scope of the Bureau's work brings it in constant touch with other committees, the Manager usually acting as Secretary of the committees in question. These include the committees on

Customs Service and Revenue Law
Marine Insurance
Protection of Industrial Property
Telegraph and Cable Communications

In addition, the Manager acted as Secretary for two special committees, one in connection with the efficient handling of imported merchandise by the Government and the other with respect to the conduct and practice of loaders of freight on ocean piers. Matters within the scope of all these committees appear in this report. They have to do with both importing and exporting merchandise. It is impossible to describe or even mention all of them separately, but their general nature and practical value are evident in the statements below.

This report is divided into two sections. The first deals with general activities, the second with trade promotion work.

GENERAL ACTIVITIES

Laws, Procedure and Departmental Rulings Affecting Imports.

THE provisions of the pending Tariff Bill aroused widespread interest. As soon as the bill was reported, and constantly since that time, members have requested that the Bureau either explain the terms of the bill or quote proposed administrative sections or rates, or urge amendments to the administrative provisions or to the rates of duty proposed.

For example, during a long period almost daily requests were received from members interested in business with Cuba, urging The Association to support a movement for a reduction in the rate of duty on raw sugar. Another group of members collectively requested The Association to advocate that a certain duty be assessed on a specific rather than an ad valorem basis as the bill proposed. To such inquirers there has been explained the unalterable policy of The Association to take no position with respect to the character or the amount of duty assessed, if any, on imported articles, because of the divergent opinions and business interests of members.

The Committee on Customs Service and Revenue Law examined thoroughly the administrative sections of the proposed bill and, following approval by the Board of Directors, suggested certain modifications. The proposed conditions under which importers' bonds were to be filed were found to be neither feasible nor practical in that the liability covered by the bond was too extended. In personal visits, letters and telegrams The Association urged Congress to change these undesirable provisions. Existing law stipulates that goods which are the growth or product of the United States may be returned to this country without paying duty. The proposed bill would allow duty-free return only if the merchandise is brought back by the original shipper or his agent. The Association objected effectively to this limitation. Merchandise sometimes disappears while in the custody of the Government for appraisement purposes; consequently The Association successfully advocated the inclusion of a provision whereby owners of merchandise so lost could be reimbursed.

The Association also urged that the misleading title "Naval officer of Customs" be changed to correspond more clearly with the duties of this officer, consisting chiefly of auditing accounts and reviewing the acts of other departments. To avoid needless duplication of government audits in connection with imports The Association urged that the work henceforth be confined to a single audit. On learning that the informal conferences before entry between Deputy Appraisers and importers regarding values were in danger of being discontinued, The Association formally endorsed such conferences and urged their continuance, which now seems assured. Through letters and conferences The Association urged that the assignment of customs employees to examine the hand baggage of incoming passengers be arranged so as to interfere as little as possible with the regular work at the appraiser's warehouse.

On complaints of members that tips must be given to secure prompt service for public stores cases, and because general opinion indicated that this practice was widespread, The Association decided, after conferring with the local Appraiser to conduct a campaign against the giving of such tips. This was done by sending a letter to every importer and customs broker in New York, by publicity in "Greater New York" and the daily press, and by personal conferences and telephone conversations with interested persons. A resulting speeding up of the movement of public stores cases was soon apparent.

Marking Canadian Shipments to Show Country of Origin.

LAST summer Canadian customs officials announced important, and in some instances drastic, modifications in the Dominion regulations governing the marking of imports to show the country of origin. It was proposed, for example, to require a mark on every three yards of piece goods, a requirement severely handicapping foreign shippers in that either textiles would have to be manufactured expressly for the Canadian trade or goods bought in the open market would have to be opened and marked before they could enter. Either procedure would be expensive. Other proposed requirements were also difficult to comply with and many members protested. At The Association's request the Department of State made suitable representation to the Canadian Government, and The Association kept in touch with the American Consul at Ottawa in connection with many phases of these regulations. Canadian officials decided that the objections were well founded and after once or twice postponing the date on which the law was to be effective the new plan was set aside.

Loaders on Piers.

THE letters sent out concerning the giving of gratuities in connection with public stores cases brought scores of complaints against the autocratic practices and excessive charges of loaders on steamship piers. Through threats and actual injury to persons and property consignees were intimidated and prevented from loading their own merchandise. After several conferences on this subject The Association brought together leading officials of all steamship lines operating in the Port of New York at a conference in the Assembly Room. The situation was laid before them in detail and the protests of our members presented. The conference admitted that the evils were widespread throughout the Port, and the steamship representatives unanimously recommended that The Merchants' Association organize a Conference Committee to effect a plan of relief, this Committee to consist of men chosen from commercial organizations, acting on behalf of shippers and consignees, and representatives of the steamship conferences in New York, acting on behalf of the steamship operators. This Committee, appointed by acting President Lewis E. Pierson, has announced the principles which it believes are involved and a plan of procedure to make those principles effective. It is expected that once the program is made effective conditions will improve. In fact, as soon as the public learned that The Association had taken practical steps in this connection marked improvement became apparent.

Patent Office and Patent Laws.

THE Association continued its active support of the movement to secure an adequate personnel and adequate pay for employees in the Federal Patent Office. The fact that the situation in that office was steadily becoming worse induced all interested organizations to unite on behalf of legislation to rectify this condition. Continuous and extensive work, including letters, telegrams and conferences with the Commissioner of Patents, other Governmental representatives, and leaders of the Senate and the House, finally secured enactment of the measure in question. This outcome will be of marked benefit to manufacturers all over the United States.

At different times during the year bills have been introduced in Congress amending the patent laws so that the Government would be allowed to license a patent provided the owner did not work it within a stipulated period. This proposal has been consistently and successfully fought.

The Association urged the President of the United States and the Secretary of State to take the steps necessary to revive the Bacon-Bernstorff Patent Treaty with Germany before May 11, 1922, at which time the right of renewal ceased. This Treaty gave marked advantages to American owners of Patents in Germany, which probably could not be obtained if the existing Treaty was allowed to lapse.

Issuing and Viséing Passports.

THE Association continued its endeavor to bring about the removal or mitigation of a serious handicap to international business arising from the passport nuisance. On different occasions during the year the desirability of the following was emphasized:

(a) The United States entering into agreements with other countries, whenever feasible, removing entirely the regulation that passports must be viséd for travel between the countries in question.

(b) The abolition of passports entirely for nationals of certain countries entering the United States, provided those countries grant a reciprocal privilege to our citizens. At present this would, of course, be possible with only a limited group of countries.

(c) Prompt reduction in the charge for issuing and viséing passports to whatever amount is necessary to cover the actual cost of service.

All passport procedure is under the jurisdiction of the Department of State except the amount of the fee assessed, which is fixed by Congress. The Association on several occasions presented its views on these matters to the Secretary of State and the Under-Secretary, emphasizing from a business point of view the urgency of the above modifications. A reduction in the fees to whatever amount is needed to pay the cost of the service has been discussed with Senators and members of the House, and a bill is to be introduced immediately in Congress proposing to reduce the fee in question. In this effort The Association is assured of the cooperation of other leading commercial organizations, particularly those in cities where foreign trade is an important factor.

When the discontinuance of the New York Passport Office was threatened The Association, working with other cities having such offices, succeeded in bringing about the enactment of legislation making permanent provision for passport offices in New York, New Orleans and San Francisco.

In these passport campaigns various articles written by The Association have been printed and reprinted in different States and foreign countries, as a result of which wide publicity and support for the movement has been attained.

The Federal Horticultural Board.

MEMBERS have repeatedly emphasized that the regulations and practices of the Federal Horticultural Board are often arbitrary, unfair and injurious, particularly its regulations governing imports. Quarantine Number 37 is objected to by many members. In this connection we have interviewed members, had conferences with representatives of the Department of Agriculture, attended hearings in Washington, etc., in an endeavor to see what action, if any, should be undertaken properly to protect our members. A public hearing, to be held in May, probably will determine this.

Mail and Cable Service.

AT The Association's suggestion the delegates from the United States to the recent International Mail Conference were instructed to advocate a two-cent international reply coupon service. This was successfully done, and the service will be inaugurated as soon as the agreement of the conference is ratified by interested countries. The Association also asked the Post Office Department to secure the privileges of the use of the British air mail service between Cairo and Bagdad for first class United States mail. This was granted by England, with a resultant marked decrease in the time letters are in transit between this country and Persia and Mesopotamia.

In light of decreased costs The Association again urged the cable companies maintaining the Central Bureau for Registered Addresses to reduce the registration fee. The Bureau replied that this was not practical. Later The Association reported the situation, asking for an investigation, to the Department of Commerce. The Association also urged the cable companies to resume, if they had not already done so, their delayed week-end service at a reduced fee. This was done by some of the companies.

Confidential Information Revealed.

IMPORTERS are required to file with the Government certain statements as to the supplies of materials in the United States before additional stocks may be imported. Complaints that facts so filed, and supposed to be confidential, were improperly revealed. These reports were immediately submitted to and investigated by the Department in question. They were found to be correct, and a modification in procedure was immediately ordered by the Department, with the assurance to The Association that there would be no cause for complaint in the future.

Philippine Bookkeeping Law.

THE Philippine law requiring that books of account be kept in English, Spanish or a native dialect was felt to be unfair to many merchants in the Islands, especially the Chinese, and injurious to American business with the Philippines. The matter was taken up by The Association with the Acting Governor-General of the Philippines, the President of the Philippine Senate and the Speaker of the Philippine House, as well as with the President of the United States, the Secretaries of State and War and the members of the appropriate Committees of Congress. Following this, the Philippine Legislature postponed the act in question, doubtless, in part at least, as a result of our efforts.

Digitized by Google

Business Disagreements With Foreign Houses.

THROUGHOUT the year The Association cooperated repeatedly in the adjustment of business disagreements arising between firms in the United States and houses abroad. The records indicate such activity on 109 occasions. Although The Association never acts as an arbiter in such cases it endeavors to bring the point of view, opinions and wishes of the foreign firm to the careful attention of the American houses with which the business was conducted, and vice versa. It is gratifying to report that many of these difficulties and disagreements have been satisfactorily settled, frequently on the basis of a concession by each of the parties.

Miscellaneous Activities.

OTHER general activities too numerous for even brief description are as follows:

(a) General.

Again urged Federal government to make more complete use of the economic data gathered by it.

Kept in touch with our Government re the protection of American business houses having claims against Germany or firms in Germany.

Strongly recommended active participation by our Government in Genoa Conference.

Supported the China Trade Act.

Supported the modified Hague Rules, 1921.

Approved the ter Meulen bond plan.

Met frequently with representatives of other organizations and studied plans to reduce and prevent ocean pilferage.

Circularized interested members and prepared data for Committee on Marine Insurance, regarding marine insurance.

Appointed delegates who cooperated with other organizations and bankers in devising a uniform form for commercial letters of credit.

Prepared data and sent report to our Government re payments under the Cuban Torriente law. Kept our interested members informed regarding the situation in Cuba.

Successfully protested the registration of the word "New York" as a trade name in Cuba.

Called a meeting in Association headquarters of members who were creditors of a firm in Porto Rico.

Kept in touch with Congress re foreign trading zone legislation.

Supported adequate appropriation for work of Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce.

Prepared voluminous data re economic factors affecting the successful operation of the St. Lawrence Canal for use by the Bureau of Research.

(b) Specific.

At their request, reports on foreign or domestic import rates of duty were forwarded to fifty-five firms.

Digitized by Google

Ninety-one reports on market conditions and market possibilities for certain articles here and abroad were sent to houses requesting them.

Sixty-two houses asked for recent statistical reports showing the volume of trade in specified articles between the United States and certain foreign countries.

Letters of introduction were furnished to representatives of thirty-five member houses who were going abroad. The total number of letters is large since usually each traveler is given a separate letter or letters for each city to be visited.

In addition to the foregoing, 355 miscellaneous replies, reports or statements were transmitted to those requesting them.

As typical of the routine work of the Bureau, I am quoting below one of the statements of miscellaneous activities which appeared in a weekly report of the Bureau, as follows:

"Gave a member information regarding assessment of duties under Underwood Tariff Act and enclosed a copy of the Emergency Tariff Bill, as well as ruling of Treasury Department regarding this bill. Also gave rates of duty on different kinds of paper.

TRADE OPPORTUNITIES AND TRADE PROMOTION

Trade Opportunities.

AS in former years the distribution of trade opportunities to interested members constituted an important part of the Bureau's work. These opportunities included requests for the names of American houses from which goods can be bought and for the names of American houses interested in buying foreign products. The general decline in foreign trade throughout the world reduced the volume of such requests below the number received during the two previous years, although not below the figure for 1919.

The volume of this work since its inception is shown below:

Year	No. of Inquiries	No. of Commodities	No. of American Houses Suggested to Inquirers
1915	1263	4588	32109
1916	1182	4003	31033
1917	1588	4549	41326
1918	1354	4324	36212
1919	1188	3944	42309
1920	2147	8465	108577
1921	1443	4621	64707
1922	1320	3793	51172

These figures show that since the inception of this work the names of more than 400,000 American houses have been forwarded to foreign inquirers, solely at their request, in order that they might undertake negotiations looking toward business. Only inquiries believed to be serious and substantial are handled. To requests which do not seem to be of this sort the Bureau replies to the effect that the service cannot be granted. Each inquiry is carefully studied to insure the most satisfactory treatment. When the lists are finally prepared they are sent to the inquirer abroad, and in many instances the American houses whose names are included are notified of the fact and thus are given an opportunity to take the initiative in opening negotiations if they desire.

Total	1320	3793	51172	5774	20475	13012	14339	3346

In each of the above columns, except the first, duplications necessarily occur, i. e., if the same commodity is asked for on two different occasions it is counted twice.

Examination of the figures shows that the decline in the volume of this work is due to the slump which occurred during the midyear period in the fall of 1921. The table also indicates that an increase has already set in.

It is interesting to observe that for the first time in the Bureau's experience inquiries in connection with the purchase of products of foreign countries surpass in number inquiries in connection with the sale of American goods. Different factors have combined to this end, particularly the low comparative value of foreign moneys in terms of the American dollar. The total figure under the column showing the number of firms suggested to inquirers indicates that the names of almost 1,000 American houses were sent abroad each week. These go to every part of the world. It is a pleasure to report that doubtless because of careful service in years past, letters from such remote points as interior Africa, small islands in Oceania and isolated districts in Asia indicate that the name of The Merchants' Association of New York as a dependable source of trade information and trade names is well known there, as is true in the larger commercial cities of the world.

Lists of Foreign Firms.

TO its members who desire to take the initiative in developing their foreign business The Association gives direct aid by preparing lists of houses abroad interested in their line of merchandise. Such lists enable the recipient to open correspondence or conduct advertising campaigns in foreign territory. The Bureau is constantly endeavoring to keep this file, which has thousands of names, up to date. If lists of the right classes of firms are not available, inquiries are sent to whatever part of the world the member is interested in and the names obtained. Hence, this service sometimes extends over a period of several months. This year 174 such inquiries were handled and thousands of names furnished. Sixty-three desired to buy goods abroad and sixty-four to sell goods abroad. Twenty-nine wished to develop agency arrangements. Eighteen were unclassified. The countries for which lists were desired were:

Europe	96
South America	33
Asia	31
Cuba and the West Indies	28

Mexico, Canada and Central America followed in the order named.

Expressions of Commendation.

LETTERS of commendation are constantly received. It is interesting to note that during the same week in which the services listed above as appearing in one weekly report occurred, the following letter of commendation was received:

> "We acknowledge with thanks yours of September 9 and appreciate the thoroughness with which you have answered our questions, the answers to which have helped us greatly in determining a line of action. To be able to secure on call such full data is in itself a sufficient reason for membership in your Association, and when it is considered that this Foreign Bureau is but one of the many departments that the perplexed merchant can turn to for advice, the reasons for membership are multiplied many times over.
> Yours very truly."

REPORT OF THE INDUSTRIAL BUREAU

May 1, 1922.

Mr. S. C. Mead, Secretary,

The Merchants' Association of New York.

DEAR SIR:

THE following report covers the activities of The Merchants' Association conducted through the Industrial Bureau for the year ended April 30, 1922.

Scope of the Bureau.

THE work of the Industrial Bureau pertains to the industrial welfare of New York City and to the industrial activities and interests of members of The Association. There are some 2,300 manufacturing members. These members taken as a whole have manufacturing establishments in all but three States of the Union. New York City itself is by far the largest industrial center in the United States, having an output valued according to the latest Census figures at $5,260,707,577, or an amount nearly equal in value to the combined output of its two nearest competitors. The City's factories in 1919 numbered 32,590, with a total working force of 825,056 persons. The five-year period from 1914 to 1919 witnessed an increase of about ten per cent. in the number of manufacturing establishments and thirteen per cent. in the number of persons employed.

The sound organization and development of this vast and growing industrial district, both as regards its physical and its economic and social aspects, and the solution of particular industrial problems of members, form the program which The Merchants' Association seeks to carry out through the Industrial Bureau. Specifically, the execution of this program requires the constant accumulation and dissemination of industrial data for the information of inquiring members. It necessitates a continuous study of the City's industries, district by district and industry by industry. It carries the Bureau into the field of housing, wages, labor turnover, cost of living, the whole question of industrial relations, immigration and many allied matters.

Industrial Development.

THE work of the Bureau is carried on in general under the advisory guidance of several Committees. The Industrial Committee, which is concerned largely with the physical development of the City, consisted for the year under record of the following members:

Mr. J. W. LIEB, Chairman;
Mr. FREDERIC G. ACHELIS,
Mr. GEORGE W. BAKER,
Mr. EDWARD L. BALLARD,
Mr. GEORGE J. BROWN,
Mr. JOHN F. GALVIN,
Mr. WILLIAM GOLDMAN,
Mr. HAROLD A. LEY,
Mr. EDWARD A. MACDOUGALL,
Mr. W. H. MILNOR,
Mr. HENRY R. REISCHMANN,
Mr. ROBERT E. SIMON.

The natural and continuous industrial expansion of New York City, as evidenced by the constant increase in the number of manufacturing establishments, the number of factory workers, and the value of manufactured products, concentrates the attention of those who are interested in the City's prosperity not so much upon development, as such, as upon sound and stable development. This requires a careful scrutiny not only of the various industrial districts of the City, but of the lines of manufacturing which are relatively important in the City's industrial life. In this connection, the exhaustive survey of the Newtown Creek Industrial District which went to press at the beginning of the year under record is an example of the purpose of The Merchants' Association to foster the correct development of the City's industrial areas. Several thousand copies of this report were distributed throughout the country to manufacturers in lines for which the Newtown Creek district offers special attractions. Copies also were sent to local real estate dealers and others whose business is closely allied to industrial development. Reports reaching The Association indicate that the study has been extensively utilized. It is spoken of as "a complete encyclopedia on Newtown Creek and its connections." A leading authority on industrial property and methods used in its development writes as follows:

> "We wish to compliment you upon the completeness of this work which undoubtedly will be of great value in encouraging the establishment of industries in that district."

A similar report entitled "Staten Island, New York City; Its Industrial Resources and Possibilities," which was begun just before the close of the previous fiscal year and completed and published during the year under record, has likewise been widely distributed and enthusiastically received. The President of the Staten Island Chamber of Commerce remarks concerning it:

> "The pamphlet has been carefully gone over from the first letter on the first page to the last letter on the last page, and I cannot refrain from complimenting the compiler of this document for the accuracy of his work and the viewpoint he has taken as regards the present and the future of this Borough. We all feel that this document will be an aid not only to the Borough of Richmond, itself, but to the whole Port of New York, and as such, commends itself to the favorable consideration of anybody who is interested in the development of this great Borough and City."

The President of the Staten Island Civic League states:

> "The pamphlet is of great interest and value and is by far the best presentation of the possibilities of Staten Island ever made."

The report is a fifty-five page booklet, illustrated with maps and pictures, and deals with present and prospective factors governing the industrial development of Staten Island. Subjects which are given particular attention are the Island's geography, its present industries, the available industrial property, labor supply, freight transportation facilities, water supply, electricity, gas, police and fire protection, insurance and taxes. The report also contains a classified list of industrial concerns located on the Island.

In the belief that there is little appreciation, if not considerable misconception, of the character and extent of New York City's industries, the Bureau undertook some months ago the preparation of an industrial map of the entire City. The purpose of this map will be to picture the City's industrial geography. It will show in striking form not only the City's entire industrial area, both developed and undeveloped, but the centres for the manufacture of different products wherever the concentration is sufficient to warrant it. The map will also carry on its face considerable statistical information concerning the City's industries. It will be published in colors, and should prove to be a very effective and useful instrument in acquainting the City with its own manufacturing facilities as well as an excellent guide for tradespeople desiring to concentrate upon certain industries and for prospective manufacturers seeking proper locations.

An address entitled "The Development of Property for Industrial Use" was prepared by the Manager and delivered at one of the sessions of the Real Estate Class of the West Side Y. M. C. A. in February. The material used at this address was copied in several real estate journals and the daily press, and otherwise was brought to the attention of interested parties.

Following the Conference on the Limitation of Armaments considerable time was devoted to an inquiry into the possibility of establishing on New York Harbor facilities for scrapping war vessels, condemned in accordance with the agreements of the Conference, and other obsolete vessels belonging to the Government. The Manager and a member of the Industrial Committee attended a conference at Philadelphia on this subject and later carried on considerable correspondence with Officers of the Navy Department and with local concerns with facilities for breaking up and salvaging materials from these vessels. Subsequently the Navy Department took this matter up with various New York concerns suggested by The Association. At the end of the fiscal year no decision had been reached by the Department concerning the disposal of most of the vessels.

In view of the effect of the Armament Conference in decreasing the activity of the country's navy yards, the work of the New York Yard, which normally employs about 8,000 men, dropped during the fiscal year to about one-third of this capacity, with the prospect of an almost complete stoppage of work. As it appeared that the further application of the limitation of armaments policy would of necessity eliminate several of the Atlantic Seaboard navy yards, The Association undertook an inquiry through the Industrial Bureau as to the facilities of the New York Yard and the desirability of maintaining it as one of those to be kept in operation under the reduced building program. As the result of this inquiry The Association decided to protest to the President and to the Secretary of the Navy against the closing of the New York Yard. At about this time, however, Congress appropriated a sufficient sum of money for the maintenance and operation of the Navy to guarantee that the local yard would not be closed. Consequently The Association took no further action in this matter.

Industrial Information.

THE facilities of the Industrial Bureau for supplying information on industrial and allied matters have been extensively used by members of The Association during the past year. This service is of particular value to comparatively small manufacturers and others who are not in a position to maintain research departments of their own. The service is also particularly beneficial to members who desire information which they themselves cannot procure because it must come in large part from their competitors or others whom they hesitate to approach on such matters or who are unwilling to supply the data directly. This information usually may be secured through the Bureau, as it is in a position to collect reports from various concerns and combine them in such a way that the sources are not disclosed. In this way many reports are prepared which are of considerable value to trade and industry, but which could not otherwise be secured.

During the year inquiries were received and disposed of as follows:

	Received	Answered

In many instances inquiries have been of such a character as to require wide investigation, and have resulted in the preparation of reports of value to a considerable portion of the membership. In some cases these reports have been published in "Greater New York" for the benefit of the entire membership; in others, distributed only to those classes in the membership whose business is especially pertinent to the subject. The following are some of the topics thus treated:

Cash discounts allowed by wholesalers to domestic retailers of their goods.
Prices of building materials in New York City.
Size and character of the New York City market.
Practices of manufacturers in quoting resale prices on their products.
Changes in the cost of living in New York City.
Commodity prices in the United States.
Statistics of production for men's apparel industry in New York City.

Hours of labor in food, confectionery and paper box factories in Brooklyn.
Policy of concerns as to the compensation of their salesmen.
Practice of employers in granting vacations to employees who are members of the National Guard.

The following list, taken at random from the inquiries received during the year, indicates the character and variety of information furnished by the Bureau:

Employment conditions in various industries; laws governing the admission of aliens; the housing situation; conditions surrounding the establishment and operation of a terminal warehouse; concerns which give premiums; concerns which have facilities for the manufacture of a newly patented vacuum cleaner; list of employee loan associations; canners in New York, New Jersey and Texas; number of passenger trains entering and leaving New York City daily; wages of electricians, wiremen, maintenance men and helpers, mechanics, linemen and groundsmen splicers, stationary engineers, truck drivers, etc.; concerns having access to coal piers; manufacturing plants in Brooklyn and Manhattan having restaurants; concerns which administer life insurance through mutual benefit associations; names of speakers for sales talks; strikes; names of men who could serve as arbiters; industrial development and housing conditions in New York; industries which have developed or expanded as a result of the war; cotton mill centres in New England; extent and location of meat slaughtering industry in New York City; cooperative stores; wage reductions; factories in New York City employing more than 100 people; lists of trade organizations; information concerning industrial pensions; continuation schools; industrial uses of certain chemicals; textile courses for employees; the yearly consumption of cast iron pipe in New York City, etc.

Recurring inquiries on certain matters have been of such volume that it has been deemed advisable to anticipate them by preparing regular notes and articles for publication in "Greater New York," thereby bringing to the attention of all members information which doubtless has a wide use. Among these matters are, for instance, fluctuations in the cost of living in New York City, fluctuations in commodity prices and the trend of factory employment in New York City. The Bureau has made it a practice to analyze the most reliable figures collected on these subjects and publish them from time to time in "Greater New York."

Industrial Relations.

THE activities of the Bureau in the matter of industrial relations have been carried on under the general supervision of the Committee on Industrial Relations, which consisted during the year under record of the following members:

Mr. LINCOLN CROMWELL, Chairman;
Mr. SIDNEY BLUMENTHAL,
Mr. C. S. CHING,
Mr. GERHARD M. DAHL,
Mr. LEE K. FRANKEL,
Mr. E. K. HALL,
Mr. HAROLD A. HATCH,
*Mr. LOUIS B. SCHRAM,
Mr. WALTER C. TEAGLE,
Mr. ROBERT B. WOLF,
Mr. OWEN D. YOUNG.

*Deceased August 12, 1921.

Before discussing the detailed activities of the Committee and the Bureau falling under this head during the current year, mention should be made of the continued salutary effect of the publication of the Second Report on Industrial Relations, the distribution of which began in March, 1921. There has been a constant demand for copies of this report through practically the entire year, and the comment concerning it has been unanimously favorable. The report appeared at a critical time in the industrial reconstruction period. Apparently it has had a tremendous effect in influencing thought and formulating opinion among employers. It has also had a marked effect in placing The Merchants' Association in a somewhat enviable position among employers' organizations by giving The Association a reputation for courageous, constructive and honest thought in this troublous field.

Note should also be made of the fact that other studies in the field of industrial relations, such as the Bureau's "Report on Industrial Pensions" and on the "Turnover of Factory Labor in New York City," which were published previous to the present year, are still in considerable demand and are evidently being extensively used by persons interested in these matters. An evidence that the effect of these studies is not limited to New York City employers alone is seen in the following comments from letters received by the Bureau during the early part of 1922:

A Boston lithograph manufacturer writes concerning the "Report on Industrial Pensions": "The first reading shows that we are going to get a great deal of help from a study of this report." A Chicago lawyer writes: "I have just read with interest your Report on Industrial Pensions, dated 1920, and I want to congratulate you on the clear and direct statements you make concerning this vital problem." A representative of a California oil company says that "the Industrial Pension Report * * * is the best thing of its kind" he has ever seen.

Because of the business depression during the past year The Association's activities in the field of industrial relations have been largely concerned with the problem of unemployment. As Vice-Chairman, and later as acting Chairman, of the Coordinating Committee on Employment Activities in New York City, the Manager assisted in formulating practical plans for the prevention or alleviation of unemployment. In this connection the Bureau made an inquiry among important manufacturers in New York City to determine what plans were being followed by individual employers to anticipate unemployment or to assist former employees who were out of work. It was found that a large percentage of the employers addressed were following some plan, such as undertaking new construction, making repairs or adopting a shorter working day, whereby a larger per cent. of their normal working force was employed than would otherwise be the case. The results of this study were published in "Greater New York," and were later used in connection with the President's Conference on Unemployment.

During the summer the Coordinating Committee secured the cooperation of The Merchants' Association, the Chamber of Commerce of the State of New York, the Brooklyn Chamber of Commerce and certain other organizations for the purpose of making practical application of the plans devised for handling the problem of unemployment. A series of conferences was held, some of them at the offices of The Merchants' Association, to achieve this result. The untimely death of Mr. Louis B. Schram, who was acting as Chairman of the meetings, and the simultaneous establishment of a Mayor's Committee on Unemployment halted this effort. The program outlined by the Committee, however, was immediately placed in the hands of the Commissioner of Public Welfare, Hon. Bird S. Coler, who had been appointed by the Mayor to head the newly formed City Committee. Also Mr. Morgan, as President of The Association, was appointed a member of an Advisory Committee to assist the City officials.

In accordance with the recommendations of the President's Conference on Unemployment, which had meantime convened at Washington, a local committee, to be known as the Committee on Unemployment Statistics for New York City, was appointed by Mr. Coler to make a careful study of the extent of unemployment throughout the City. President Morgan was made Chairman of this Committee, and the Manager, Secretary. The Vice-Chairman was the President of the Brooklyn Chamber of Commerce. Other members were the Director of the Brooklyn Bureau of Charities, the Director of The Association for Improving the Condition of the Poor, the New York State Industrial Commissioner, and the Secretary of the Central Trades and Labor Council. The actual investigations for the Committee were carried on through the Industrial Bureau. The first report was rendered as of October 17, 1921, and indicated that there were approximately 343,000 residents of New York City who were unemployed. Two further studies were made by the Bureau for the Committee, one as of December 15, which showed about 330,000 unemployed, and the other as of March 15, which showed a slightly larger total number unemployed, but indicated that many lines of business were evincing distinct tendencies toward improvement. It is expected that these surveys will be continued periodically until the return of more normal business conditions.

As the activities of The Association concerning the City's housing and construction problems have been largely concerned with the status of labor conditions in this industry, they will also be noted under the head of industrial relations. Early in the fiscal year The Association made inquiry of the counsel for the Lockwood Investigating Committee concerning the then current rate of wages obtaining in the local building industry. This inquiry was the beginning of a protracted correspondence between The Association and the Lockwood Committee on the matter of wages and uneconomic practices in the building industry, The Association urging that the Lockwood Committee use its influence to eliminate such uneconomic practices as it should find and to secure a readjustment of the wage scale which would be more in conformity with the rates paid in comparable lines of industry. In December the Lockwood Committee called before it various labor leaders and officers of the Building Trades Employers' Association and secured voluminous testimony regarding uneconomic practices in vogue. The Committee later secured a promise from various union officials that the practices complained of would be eliminated. At the instance of the Committee the United States Court for the District of New York handed down a decree abolishing certain restrictive rules of the International Brotherhood of Bricklayers, Masons and Plasterers.

During the summer a series of articles concerning the building situation in various important cities of the country was prepared by the Manager and printed in successive issues of "Greater New York." These articles contained information regarding conditions in Cleveland, Chicago, Boston, Philadelphia, Rochester, Kansas City, Pittsburgh, Newark, Albany and Troy.

On January 4 a conference was held under the auspices of the Building Trades Employers' Association at which The Merchants' Association and some twenty other organizations were represented. The purpose of this meeting, as stated by the President of the Employers' Association, was to secure the active support of leading civic and commercial organizations in assisting the building industry to reestablish itself in the good graces of the public. To accomplish this end, it was proposed that in all future negotiations between the building employers and the Unions a committee representing the public should be present to guarantee that the public's interest would be properly protected in the making of labor contracts. The outcome of the Conference was the appointment of a small committee, which was authorized to take this matter up with the Employers' Association and the Building Trades Council to arrive at a satisfactory plan for the public's representation in future negotiations. Meantime The Merchants' Association appointed a special committee to represent it in its relations with the so-called public group which had been called into being by the Employers' Association. After repeated efforts to secure a meeting between the Emlpoyers' Association and the Building Trades Council at which the public would be present, these two organizations were finally brought together with the understanding that although no representatives of the public would be present in person, the minutes of the meetings would be available to the various members of the public group. Three conferences were held, but at the end of the fiscal year no new agreement had been reached regarding working conditions or the wage scale for the coming months. In the meantime construction work has been progressing at an unprecedented rate, building labor has become scarce, and the wage scale provided for in the agreement expiring December 31, 1921, has been continued by common consent.

Incidentally, in connection with the building situation the Committee on Industrial Relations held various meetings with prominent builders, contractors, architects and other authorities for the purpose of securing complete information on the subject. At one meeting the Vice-President of the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce was present and described at length the experiences of that city pertaining to labor conditions in the building industry.

In the capacity of a representative of the public, the Manager attended a conference between representativs of the Iron League of New York and the Portable Hoisting Engineers' International Union, at which certain working conditions were discussed.

In February a report was prepared for the Committee on Industrial Relations and approved by the Board of Directors, opposing the Duell Bill (S. Int. 557), then pending in the State Assembly. This bill provided for the establishment of an industrial court in this State for the settlement of labor disputes. Although sympathizing with the purpose for which the bill was drawn the Committee disapproved of the principle of the measure, stating in its report:

Digitized by Google

"* * * your Committee is convinced that far from furthering the cause of industrial peace, this measure, if enacted, would multiply controversies and increase strife. Disregarding the cardinal importance of good-will in industry this proposal would substitute coercion for cooperation and injunctions for voluntary contracts." The measure failed of enactment.

A report was also prepared for the Industrial Relations Committee and approved by the Directors, opposing the Downing Bill (S. Int. 7), which provided for the elimination of stock and mutual insurance companies from participation in workmen's compensation insurance in New York State. This bill likewise failed of passage.

In December a joint conference was held between the Committee on Industrial Relations and a committee representing the Cloak, Suit and Skirt Manufacturers' Protective Association for the purpose of placing before The Merchants' Association information concerning present conditions in the women's clothing industry in New York City. In view of the very great importance of this industry in New York and of its unsettled condition as outlined by the manufacturers, The Association sent a letter to the Secretary of Commerce requesting him to make an investigation of the industry. This request was favorably received and plans were drawn up for a joint investigation by the Department of Commerce and the Department of Labor. Subsequently, as the result of a request which reached The Association through the Manufacturers' Protective Association, the Manager suggested the names of three persons to act on the proposed investigating commission. Because of difficulties, however, in securing an agreement between the Manufacturers' Protective Association and the International Ladies' Garment Workers' Union regarding the scope of the inquiry and the personnel of the investigating commission, the Government decided to give up the investigation.

In connection with The Association's activity in the field of industrial relations the Manager has been in attendance during the year at many meetings on this subject held under the auspices of such organizations as the Industrial Relations Association of America, The Taylor Society, the American Academy of Political Science, the National Civic Federation, the National Federation of Construction Industries, the New York Executives' Club, the Local Chapter of the National Association of Corporation Training, and different local discussion groups on personnel research and labor relations.

Immigration and Naturalization.

THE membership of the Committee on Immigration and Naturalization is as follows:

Mr. H. D. WALBRIDGE, Chairman;
Mr. GEORGE A. CULLEN,
Mr. LEOPOLD DEMUTH,
Mr. GANO DUNN,
Mr. LOUIS J. HOROWITZ,
Mr. WILLIAM LOEB, JR.,
Mr. A. F. MACARTHUR,
Mr. FRANK PRESBREY,
Mr. FELIX M. WARBURG,
Mr. WILLIAM H. WOODIN,
Mr. C. H. ZEHNDER.

The most important activities of this Committee and of the Bureau in connection with immigration matters during the early part of the year were concerned with the Ellis Island investigation which had been begun in February, 1921. Based upon this investigation, a series of recommendations looking to the improvement of facilities and service at Ellis Island and advocating the establishment of a permanent National Immigration Commission were adopted by the Board of Directors in May. Following the publication of this action some controversy arose regarding statements made in The Association's report concerning graft in the immigration service. As a consequence the Bureau pursued its investigation further for the purpose of developing specific data concerning individual instances of graft which had previously come to its attention in a general way. Considerable additional testimony, including affidavits confirming The Association's statement, was thus collected and placed in the hands of the Commissioner-General of Immigration.

Subsequently an investigating commission was appointed by the Secretary of Labor to study the administration of the immigration service at the Port of New York and other important immigration stations. Various conferences were held between representatives of The Association and this Commission, and additional information was supplied to the Government's representatives to be used in their effort to eliminate corruption and reorganize the service on an efficient basis. A later inquiry by the Bureau indicated that many of the changes recommended in The Association's report had been made and nearly all of the persons against whom The Association presented evidences of graft or inefficiency had either been furloughed or demoted.

The following excerpt from a letter from the Commissioner-General of Immigration indicates the opinion held by the head of the immigration service concerning this activity of The Association:

> "Regarding changes recently made at Ellis Island by our Department and Bureau Committee, I wish to say that the members of our Committee speak very highly, indeed, of the helpful spirit of cooperation displayed by your Association and state that the information furnished them by your Mr. Fry was of material assistance in individual cases. * * * I wish to personally thank you for your helpful attitude in this work."

With the appointment of a new Commissioner of Immigration at Ellis Island in November The Association renewed its offer of cooperation and has since been in contact repeatedly with the Commissioner both on matters affecting the improvement of the service and concerning regulations governing the movements of business men who are affected by the immigration laws. In this latter matter the Bureau has been helpful in many cases in securing information of value in facilitating the travel to and from Europe of men on business missions.

In connection with the joint resolution introduced in the House of Representatives providing for an extension of the three per cent. restriction law, a report was prepared for the Committee on Immigration and Naturalization, and approved by the Board of Directors, recommending in case of the reenactment of the Three Per Cent. Law that certain important administrative changes be made. These changes included the allotment of quotas to various nationalities by departures from European ports of embarkation rather than at United States ports of arrival; a more specific definition as to what constitutes domicile in this country for the benefit of aliens leaving the country temporarily; and the distribution of the quotas for all countries over a period of ten months, with a maximum of ten per cent. of the nationality admissible in any one month. The Commissioner-General of Immigration commented upon The Association's report as follows:

> "I have read with great interest the recommendations made and want to assure you that I agree with every one of them."

In view of the fact that some of the recommendations may probably be made effective by administrative order, this opinion would seem to indicate that The Association's suggestions will be followed in so far as the Commissioner-General is empowered to do so.

As a member of the Executive Committee of the New York City Council on Immigrant Education, which was formed early in 1921 as an outcome of the report of The Association's Committee on Immigration and Naturalization, the Manager has served as Chairman of the Council's Membership Committee, for a time as Acting Chairman of the Council, later as the Chairman of a committee to make nominations for a permanent Chairman, and as Assistant Treasurer. The work of the Council has been directed to the improvement and coordination of existing facilities in the City for the education of the foreign-born. The Council consists of some 230 public and private agencies interested in this field of work, and it carries on its operations for the most part through these agencies.

At the suggestion of the Council, The Merchants' Association urged the Board of Estimate and Apportionment to provide additional funds for evening school classes for foreigners, the work of which was jeopardized by the lack of money. The needed appropriation was made.

Pursuant to a policy previously decided upon, The Association has cooperated with the Director of Americanization of the Board of Education in assisting in the establishment and maintenance of factory classes in New York City manufacturing establishments. Because of the amount of time required for constant cooperation, however, it has been deemed wise to predicate further activity upon a thorough investigation of the merits of this kind of education as an aid in promoting the best industrial interests in the community. The Association has requested the Council on Immigrant Education to undertake such a survey, and as the fiscal year closes, work on the investigation is about to begin.

The Bureau made a digest of the Johnson Naturalization Bill (H. R.10860), the purpose of which is to eliminate the Bureau of Naturalization and establish in its place a Bureau of Citizenship, to equalize the citizenship qualifications for men and women, to require all aliens to register annually, and to accomplish certain other ends. After a study of this measure The Association's Committee recommended that the suggested change in the name of the Bureau and the registration feature be opposed; that if any administrative reorganization was to be made it should be in the direction of transferring the naturalization service to the proposed Department of Education, and that the purpose of the bill to increase the educational facilities for aliens and to equalize the citizenship status of men and women should be endorsed. These recommendations were adopted by the Board of Directors, and have been placed before the appropriate Committee in Congress.

Miscellaneous Activities.

IN connection with the various legislative and governmental matters discussed above the Manager has prepared correspondence and in other ways been active in following up The Association's action by bringing it appropriately to the attention of Government officials.

Following a conference in July with the Director of the Census at Washington the Manager devoted some time to the study of a publication entitled "Survey of Current Business," which the Department of Commerce was proposing to publish. An analysis of the character of information and the form of the proposed publication was made and various changes suggested. A letter has been received from the Director thanking The Association for its "many helpful and constructive suggestions."

In view of the provisions of the Sundry Civil Appropriation Bill enacted early in the year, abolishing the publications of the different Government departments unless specific authorization for their continuance was secured from Congress, The Association, on the recommendation of the Committee on Industrial Relations, protested against the discontinuance of the Monthly Labor Review. The protest was made on the basis that the discontinuance of this publication would shut off a source of specific and detailed information such as is becoming more and more necessary to an intelligent understanding and rational handling of a large number of industrial problems. Provision has since been made for the continuance of the Review.

An inquiry and investigation was made under the direction of the Industrial Committee and the Committee on Industrial Relations concerning the merits of the proposed "business revival week" under consideration in the fall of 1921. As a result of the Bureau's study the Committee recommended that The Association withhold its endorsement of this plan.

The Manager has continued to serve throughout the year as a member of the New York City 1920 Census Committee, the purpose of which is to make available the census figures for the City at the earliest date possible and in the most convenient and valuable form. Several preliminary reports have already been made public, and, as the fiscal year ends, the Committee's main report is nearly ready for distribution.

In addition to the Committee reports noted above, the Bureau has prepared from time to time articles for publication on matters of special interest to members of The Association. Among these were several special articles concerning current business conditions in New York, dealing particularly with employment, cost of living, commodity prices and similar topics.

In June, 1921, an article entitled "New York the Greatest Market in the World" was published. The basis of this article was a study of the population as reported by the 1920 census in New York City itself, in the Metropolitan district, and in the areas within a radius of 50, 100, 150 and 200 miles, respectively, of the City. This study shows that in 1920 nine per cent. of the total population of the country lived within fifty miles of New York City; that thirteen per cent. lived within one hundred miles, and that twenty-two per cent. lived within two hundred miles of the City. Perhaps the most surprising fact disclosed by this inquiry is that in the market included within the fifty-mile radius of the City, or practically within the daily trading area of New York, there are more people than the combined population of Chicago, Philadelphia, Detroit, Cleveland, St. Louis, Boston, Baltimore and Pittsburgh. The study also showed that the daily travel into New York City is so great as to constitute in itself a movement of people as large as the entire population of the City of Providence or Denver.

Digitized by Google

Respectfully submitted,

MARTIN DODGE,
Manager, Industrial Bureau.

REPORT OF THE BUREAU OF RESEARCH

May 1, 1922.

Mr. S. C. Mead, Secretary,
The Merchants' Association of New York.

DEAR SIR:

THE following is a summary of the more important subjects which have required the attention of the Bureau of Research during the past year:

St. Lawrence Improvement Project.

DURING the past year the project for so deepening and improving the St. Lawrence River as to make it navigable for ocean vessels of large dimensions and deep draft, and thus to permit uninterrupted water movement between the Great Lakes and foreign ports, has been under constant consideration by The Association's Committee on Inland Waterways and Water Storage.

Under direction of that Committee this Bureau has studied and analyzed a great body of evidence bearing upon that subject, in cooperation with Col. Roger D. Black, C. E., U. S. Army, and Prof. Emory R. Johnson of the University of Pennsylvania, an eminent authority on ocean commerce. The two experts named were retained by the Committee to study and report upon various engineering and economic phases of the problem, with especial reference to the economic utility of the proposed route.

An adequate examination of this subject required careful study of numerous diverse, and in some cases complex factors, comprising among others the following:

1. Engineering feasibility of drowning the rapids of the St. Lawrence River, to afford a navigable channel of 25 feet or 30 feet depth, and the estimated cost of such work.
2. Corresponding deepening of the Lake channels and harbors.
3. Radical reconstruction of Lake harbors, and especially of rail terminals, required to permit the interchange of lading between ocean vessels and connecting railroads, and the cost of such reconstruction.
4. Relative economy of large vessels as compared with small vessels; large lake vessels the most economical type of carrier; why they cannot ply upon the ocean; the proposed St. Lawrence channels will admit ocean vessels of only minor size, the most uneconomical ocean carriers, by reason of their relatively much greater cost per ton of cargo space and for operation, they cannot successfully compete with the far more economical lake freighter.
5. Elements of increased cost incident to St. Lawrence route; loss of time by slow movement from below Quebec to Lake Ontario; risks of a restricted waterway, especially to large vessels; heavy insurance differential imposed on vessels navigating Gulf of St. Lawrence and adjacent waters.
6. Comparative costs of traffic movement via the St. Lawrence route and the New York Barge Canal route; latter route burdened with transfer costs, but traffic moves in bottoms, the cost of which per ton of cargo space is only about one-half that of a competing ocean carrier on the St. Lawrence route; the operating costs of the former are on a similarly low scale.

7. Traffic available for support of St. Lawrence route; at present mainly grain; grain exports from the United States are gradually declining and will probably cease in the not distant future; a considerable volume of commodities for export originates in Great Lakes area, but they seek many diverse and widely separated destinations, to reach which without transfer a great number of steam ship lines plying on different routes would be required; numerous steamship lines to many various ports of the world cannot be supported except by concentrating at focal points of shipment the diversified products of the entire range of national industry; export commodities produced in the Middle West are not sufficiently diversified nor in sufficient quantity regularly to provide full cargoes from lake ports to foreign ports generally; regular movement in large volume restricted to a few special commodities during a limited part of year, moving mainly to a few ports of Northern Europe; other commodities for other destinations, dependent upon irregular and unorganized vessel movement, the delays, disadvantages and higher cost of which make it unavailable for carriage of manufactured commodities, which require definite dates of delivery; similar conditions affect the possible movement without transshipment of imports from distant foreign ports to lake ports; in general these conditions, except as to a few commodities and a few foreign ports, would preclude vessels from obtaining full cargoes either way; the operation in foreign trade of vessels over the St. Lawrence route would, therefore, be unprofitable, and vessel owners would not undertake it.
8. Disruption of organization during five months in each year, due to cessation of St. Lawrence and Lakes navigation; loss to ocean liners by idleness; import and export houses located at lake ports would require auxiliary organization at New York during winter months.

A large body of data bearing upon these various phases of the problem was critically analyzed. It was found that the International Joint Commission's estimates of cost of improving the channels of the St. Lawrence and constructing the required dams (stated by their Report as based upon tentative and superficial surveys) was only about one-half the cost estimated by private engineers, after two years' detailed studies, comprising complete engineering exploration of sites and the preparation of plans in detail.

The International Joint Commission further practically ignored the cost of deepening the Lake channels and harbors, without which the proposed deeper St. Lawrence channels would be of little value, and in particular omitted all consideration of the fact that reconstruction of the railway terminals of the principal Lake ports would be required to provide for general ocean commerce.

It was also found that the economic studies as to available traffic, made on behalf of the International Joint Commission, were based on the assumption that the entire body of import and export commodities moving into and from the central areas would move by the St. Lawrence route, by reason of assumed lesser cost of movement. No adequate consideration was given to diversity of destination of exports, and original shipping points of imports, nor to volume of shipments with relation to destination, which are the determining factors in providing cargoes and attracting shipping facilities.

In general, it may be stated that these studies tend to show that the aggregate outlay necessary to give ocean vessels direct access to Lake ports far exceeds the outlay contemplated by the International Joint Commission; that the assumption that United States grain can reach a European destination more cheaply in ocean bottoms without transfer via the St. Lawrence route than with transfer via the State Barge Canal is not established and is improbable; that traffic in general and mixed commodities via the St. Lawrence route to foreign countries will be subject to such grave disadvantages with respect to inadequacy, irregularity and cost of shipping facilities, as to restrict it to small volume, and that for these reasons the St. Lawrence project is not economically justifiable.

Consideration has also been given to other factors not here discussed.

Although the project has been deferred by the attitude of the Canadian government, it will doubtless be revived in the near future. In anticipation of that revival the studies hitherto made on behalf of The Association will be systematized and continued, in order that when it becomes necessary The Association's views may be presented to Congress in convincing form.

Study of the State Barge Canal Facilities.

INCIDENTAL to the problem presented by the St. Lawrence improvement project it became desirable to make a study of the transportation facilities of the State Barge Canal system not only with reference to those facilities considered by themselves, but also with reference to the competitive relations between the Barge Canal and an improved St. Lawrence route.

In urging an enlargement of the transportation facilities between the Great Lakes and the ocean the proponents of the St. Lawrence route had either completely ignored the existence of the Barge Canal or had dismissed it as unworthy of consideration, alleging in effect that it was an obsolete ditch deserted by traffic because it is useless and that it is incapable of relieving the traffic congestion from which the West has hitherto at intervals suffered. It was, moreover, alleged that the recent enlargement of the Barge Canal had not substantially increased its utility, and that it was of insufficient depth to permit the free movement of barges even of restricted size and smaller than those for which it was designed.

In order to afford ocular and convincing evidence as to the actual conditions, the State Superintendent of Public Works invited the members of the House Committee on Rivers and Harbors and members of other important Committees of Congress to make a trip over the Barge Canal from Albany to Buffalo in order that they might learn by direct observation the facts concerning the Canal's capacity and condition. The Merchants' Association was likewise invited to send representatives, and its Traffic Manager and Director of Research were designated for that purpose. A week was consumed in making the trip upon power boats belonging to the Canal service.

The party inspected the canal throughout and found that at all points it had an available depth of water of 12 feet; that it was equipped with locks of the most modern and efficient type, electrically operated and of ample capacity to permit the rapid passage of barges loaded with over 2,000 tons of cargo; that it has a capacity which will accommodate 20,000,000 tons of traffic annually and that during the year 1921 (the first year during which the full facilities of the Barge Canal were available) the Canal was used to a gratifying extent for the movement of bulk commodities, and satisfactory beginnings of a healthy package traffic were evident.

The previous very restricted use of the Barge Canal during the period of extreme transportation congestion, from which proceeded the demand for the St. Lawrence improvement, was due in part to the lack of suitable modern barges as well as to the only partially completed condition of the waterway. The lack of canal barges was in the main caused by the control by the United States government of the Barge Canal, which resulted in the refusal of private capital to invest in canal barges under conditions of government competition, and the fixing by the Government of canal rates which favored rail traffic and discouraged the competition of water traffic.

It was found that immediately upon the cessation of Government control a number of strong companies had begun the building of numerous modern canal barges adapted to the carrying of large cargoes with great economy; that a considerable number of such barges were available for use at the beginning of 1921 and were actually used to their maximum capacity during that season, and that a great addition to the fleet was in construction during 1921 and available for use at the beginning of the season of 1922.

During 1921, owing to the absence of real competitive conditions between canal carriers, relatively high rates prevailed, but even under these conditions all available barges were used to their capacity and the rates made were very substantially less than the prevailing rail rates.

During the current year a much greater number of barges will be available and competitive conditions as between the several carriers will exist, and it is therefore to be expected that rates will prevail sufficiently low to cause a greater part of the grain traffic from the interior to follow the canal route. During the season of 1921 the rate per bushel of wheat from Buffalo to New York, including storage, insurance and elevator charges, was approximately six cents, and a study of the cost of canal bottoms and the operating costs of canal barges indicates that when competition between carriers is fully established a rate as low as three cents per bushel is possible and probable. At this rate the cost of movement of grain from the Upper Lakes to tide-water via the State Barge Canal will be fully as low as, if not lower than, the cost of movement in ocean bottoms via the St. Lawrence route. Moreover, the New York route will have an important advantage over the St. Lawrence route in the much lower cost of ocean insurance.

The conditions relative to the New York State Barge Canal were studied with care in order that the facts as to the advantages offered by it in the way of rates and otherwise might be available for the information of shippers, and as a means of promoting the utilization of the State's great canal system and of protecting it against the results of the misstatements which have recently been widely circulated to its detriment.

Postal Improvement.

DURING the past year this Bureau has given much time to this subject, in connection with the general investigation of postal methods in progress by the Joint Congressional Postal Commission, whose inception was largely due to previous work of this Association.

A very comprehensive study has been made by the Congressional Postal Commission of the existing postal facilities of this City and of the need for their enlargement. Through this Bureau The Association has kept in constant touch with the progress of this work, through appearances before the Commission and otherwise.

It has carefully examined the several proposals which the Commission has had under consideration with reference to the construction of additional post office buildings, particularly in connection with the terminal stations of the Pennsylvania and New York Central Railroads. These additional buildings are planned not only to promote greater facility of mail handling under the present methods, but also to permit the partial segregation and separate handling of various classes of mail, namely, parcels post mail, second-class mail and foreign mail, whose sorting and distribution would be greatly facilitated thereby, while the facilities necessary for the prompt movement of first-class mail would be disburdened to a considerable extent and thereby made more effective. Careful study was made of the several plans with reference to their adaptability to the purpose sought and numerous conferences with postal officials were held in that respect.

Studies were also made of the proposal for the abandonment of the existing City Hall Post Office and the construction of a new and separate postal building upon another site. In this connection The Association advocated the surrender by the Federal government to the City of the present site in exchange for property now owned by the City to the north of the Municipal Building, and various representations upon that matter were made on behalf of this Association both to the City officials and the Post Office authorities.

During the year the restoration of pneumatic tube service in this City has been constantly in controversy before the Committees of Congress, and The Association has been actively concerned in the finally successful effort to secure favorable action by Congress.

Transit Reform.

CAREFUL analysis was made by this Bureau of the proposal first made by Governor Miller looking toward a general reorganization of the transit facilities of this City and the creation of a new Transit Commission for that purpose. The legislative measures which followed were likewise carefully studied in detail and various digests and reports were prepared for the information of The Association's Committee having that subject in charge. At a later date analyses were also made of the plan for reorganization which was tentatively presented by the Transit Commission. Pursuant to this work, and in order that The Association might be fully informed of its various phases, numerous appearances were made at the various hearings held upon that subject before the Legislature, the Board of Estimate and Apportionment and the Transit Commission.

Digitized by Google

Graduated Gas Rates.

REPRESENTATIONS were made to The Association by a number of its manufacturing members as to the equity and desirability of the adoption in this City of a graduated scale of rates for gas, with differential rates based upon quantity consumed, as a substitute for the single uniform rate, irrespective of quantity, now in use.

The subject was taken up with the gas companies, which expressed their willingness to adopt such a scale of rates, provided that the changes proposed should be either formulated or accepted by the Public Service Commission. A petition in the matter addressed to the Public Service Commission was therefore prepared by this Bureau on behalf of The Association, and application was made to the Public Service Commission to formulate and put in force such a graduated scale of rates.

Under the direction of the Public Service Commission a Committee representing The Merchants' Association, selected manufacturing interests, and the companies, was appointed tentatively to formulate for the consideration of the Commission a proposed graduated scale based upon the ascertained cost of supplying gas in various quantities and graduated with reference to quantity consumed. In connection with this work this Bureau, with the assistance of a gas engineer retained for that purpose, made an analysis of the accounts of the Consolidated Gas Company with reference to the cost of production of gas in various quantities and the revenues which the company would derive therefrom under various scales of charges. From the information thus obtained several tentative scales of graduated rates were prepared and submitted for the consideration of the Public Service Commission.

Protracted hearings were held at which this Association was represented by counsel under the direction of this Bureau. Consideration was given not only to the question of graduated rates, but also to the proposed substitution of the British thermal unit standard in place of the existing 22 candle-power illuminating standard, from which it is contended that substantial economies will result to the benefit of the consumer.

During the proceedings the Commissioner stated his opinion that the requests for a graduated scale of charges were convincing, and it is highly probable that such graduated scale will be put in effect with very material benefit to large users of gas.

Muscle Shoals Project.

DURING the war the United States, as a war measure, invested over $100,000,000 in constructing, at Muscle Shoals, on the Tennessee River, great plants for the fixation of nitrogen from the atmosphere to provide nitrates as a base for explosives. It also adopted a project for the building of great dams at that site to provide water and electric power ultimately to be used for the operation of the nitrate plants, although the latter went out of operation upon the termination of the war. It was contemplated that the nitrate plants, when not needed for the manufacture of explosives, would be devoted to the production of fertilizers to be sold at low cost to farmers.

Mr. Henry Ford offered to buy from the Government for $5,000,000 all the manufacturing plants and appurtenances which had been constructed at Muscle Shoals at a cost of between $80,000,000 and $90,000,000, on condition that the Government should complete the unfinished dams and supply a power installation of 650,000 horsepower capacity. This would require an additional expenditure by the Government to complete the power development of a sum variously estimated from $40,000,000 to $60,000,000, in addition to the outlays already made for that purpose.

Mr. Ford proposed that the Government should rent to him this power development, the cost of which to the Government would be at the lowest estimate in excess of $60,000,000, and proposed to pay as rent six per cent. annual interest on $28,000,000 only, and in addition to pay a fixed annual amortization charge, which, at the end of the rental period, would realize to the Government about $45,000,000. As a further consideration, he agreed to maintain the nitrate plants in condition for the manufacture of nitrates for explosive purposes, and at all other times to operate one of them to produce fertilizers to a specified quantity, to be sold by him directly to consumers at a price not to exceed eight per cent. profit upon the cost of manufacture.

The effect of this proposal would be to grant a very considerable subsidy to Mr. Ford by granting him the use of Government property for power purposes at a charge greatly below the cost of production, at the same time supplying him with a large quantity of excess power at similarly low cost for his use for private manufacturing purposes.

A long and careful study of all the facts in the case was made by this Bureau and the project was opposed by The Association on the ground that the production and sale of fertilizers either by the Government directly or through the granting of a subsidy to a single manufacturer would be an invasion by the Government of the field of private enterprise and should not be permitted. This Bureau, under instructions, prepared an extended argument in opposition to the project, which was filed with the Secretary of War and the Committees of Congress, and supplemented by oral argument before the Secretary.

Charter Revision.

A COMMISSION having been created by act of the Legislature to revise the Charter of the City of New York, a Committee of The Association was appointed to cooperate in that work. On behalf of that Committee this Bureau cooperated with counsel retained for that purpose in the preparation of a synopsis of the present City Charter in such form as greatly to facilitate reference to and understanding of all the various divisions of the City government and their functions. This synopsis, published as a large pamphlet of more than one hundred pages, has been highly commended as a valuable aid to the work of the Charter Revision Commission and a great number of requests for it have been received.

Port Development.

THE movement for the creation of a Port Authority by joint action of the States of New York and New Jersey, in order to provide for a comprehensive plan for the development of the Port of New York, was signalized by active and bitter opposition by the City authorities. This Association consistently supported the project, and in that connection it became necessary first to acquire a complete familiarity with the scope of the plan, to attend numerous meetings and hearings thereon, and to present to the Legislature arguments in favor of the proposition. This Bureau was charged with that work, and on behalf of The Association's Committee having jurisdiction, detailed studies of the project were made and various reports and arguments prepared in relation thereto.

In this connection it became necessary to study from a transportation standpoint, as a means of connecting New Jersey with Long Island, the relative merits of a tunnel under the Upper Bay from Greenville to Bay Ridge (proposed by the Port Authority) and of a tunnel under the Narrows from Staten Island to Bay Ridge (proposed by the City authorities).

Harbor, Docks and Terminals.

VARIOUS matters have arisen during the year coming under this head. These comprise channel improvements and Federal appropriations therefor, the location and construction of new piers, the operation of the ferries and similar matters. Examination has been made of all these various projects, reports have been prepared as to some of them, and necessary communications in respect of appropriations have been prepared and dispatched to Congress.

Federal Taxation.

THIS has been the subject of incessant activity throughout the year in respect of dealing with requests and complaints as to details of taxation made by members of The Association. These have required considerable correspondence with the Commissioner of Internal Revenue in the effort to alleviate the numerous difficulties to which the public has been subjected under the Federal tax laws. In addition, considerable study has been given to the proposed revision of Federal taxation with respect to the modification of the Income Tax and the substitution of the sales tax proposal. Although no concrete result was reached in respect of these matters their complexity and the differences of views have required that the various proposals advanced before Congress should be carefully digested and that in some instances formal representations should be made in regard to them. Many conferences and hearings were attended in the course of this work.

Various Legislation.

IN addition to numerous other matters coming under this head, considerable attention has been given, in cooperation with the Committee on City Conditions, to the more effective regulation of taxicabs. Several conferences on this subject were held, studies were made of the several legislative bills proposed for the purpose, and proper statements made to the legislative Committees as to the views of The Association.

Considerable attention has also been given to securing better administration of the laws with respect to commercial frauds. These have been quite prevalent, and many complaints from members of inadequate action by the courts have been received. The subject has been discussed at considerable length by the Committee on Commercial Law, and following such discussion, this Bureau has made representations to the United States District Attorney and the District Attorney of New York County with respect to prompt and more zealous action in cases of this class.

It likewise having become evident that to relieve the congestion of the United States courts in this District and thereby permit prompt action in the case of commercial frauds, additional Judges were necessary, The Association, through this Bureau, urged the passage of a bill providing for more Federal Judges in this District, which bill finally became law.

Respectfully submitted,

F. B. DE BERARD,
Director of Research.

REPORT OF THE CONVENTION BUREAU

May 1, 1922.

Mr. S. C. Mead, Secretary,
The Merchants' Association of New York.

DEAR SIR:

THE efforts of The Association to bring conventions to New York and to cooperate with organizations holding their meetings in this City during the year ended April 30, 1922, are summarized in the following report:

The Convention Bureau is conducted under the supervision of and in accordance with policies adopted upon the recommendations of the Convention Committee, composed of:

Col. MICHAEL FRIEDSAM, Chairman; Mr. F. A. MUSCHENHEIM,
Mr. L. M. BOOMER, Mr. MASON B. STARRING,
Mr. JOHN McE. BOWMAN, Mr. PERCY S. STRAUS,
Mr. LOUIS WILEY.

Six hundred and two conventions were held in New York City during the year under review. During their stay in the City the four hundred and twenty thousand people attending these conventions spent approximately $25,000,000.

Following is a condensed tabulation of conventions for the year:

	International and National	State
May, 1921	49	9
June	29	6
July	17	2
August	10	3
September	28	0
October	36	3
November	48	5
December	77	4
January, 1922	102	9
February	69	3
March	32	2
April	52	7
	549	53

Directly due to the work of The Association, conducted through this Bureau, eighty-eight conventions were secured for New York City during the year. These conventions, which bring to the City over sixty thousand desirable visitors, would have gone elsewhere had it not been for the activities of the Convention Bureau.

Every opportunity to cooperate with organizations holding their conventions in this City was utilized. Service of an unusually diversified character was thus performed. Immediately upon learning of conventions to be held in New York The Association's assistance was formally tendered by the Bureau, with the result that daily throughout the year the Bureau was called upon to assist in preparations, securing meeting places, exhibition facilities and hotel accommodations, in building business programs, in planning publicity methods and in promoting attendance, in outlining and executing plans for entertainment, and in shaping the work of local committees. The Manager of the Bureau frequently served as ex-officio member of committees, and in a number of instances carried through to completion the plans which he suggested to such committees.

The Bureau prepared for publication in "Greater New York" and for advance transmission to the newspapers weekly bulletins giving details of conventions to be held during the succeeding week, as well as monthly schedules of conventions to be held in New York City.

To a greater extent than in preceding years the Bureau was called upon for service to organizations. Its aid was sought in behalf of conventions held in other cities. For example, in response to a specific request the Bureau prepared a complete order of business and outlined a detailed program for a convention which was held in Kansas City. Frequently it was called upon for suggestions as to speakers to address conventions held elsewhere, in addition to the many requests for assistance of this nature for New York meetings.

Similarly there was a large increase in the number of inquiries relative to conventions made by members of The Merchants' Association.

There likewise has been a growing tendency to seek The Association's cooperation in bringing conventions to New York City. Local branches and members of national and state organizations, desirous of bringing the latters' sessions here, more frequently availed of the opportunity to strengthen their campaign through The Association's cooperation.

The Bureau's labors to bring conventions to the City, particularly meetings in conjunction with which trade exhibitions are held, were facilitated during the year by the reversion to exposition purposes of the Grand Central Palace. The availability of this building was a powerful factor in securing for New York a convention event of premier importance—the National Merchandise Fair—which is to be held semi-anually hereafter in this City.

From the New York hotels the Bureau received efficient cooperation, both in efforts to bring conventions to the City and in providing accommodations for all convention visitors. Several of the larger hotels have established departments for handling this class of business. The work of these departments has been coordinated with The Association's convention work with excellent results.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN R. YOUNG,

Manager, Convention Bureau.

REPORT OF THE LEGISLATIVE SERVICE BUREAU

May 1, 1922.

Mr. S. C. Mead, Secretary,
The Merchants' Association of New York.

DEAR SIR:

THE chief activities of The Association, conducted through its Legislative Service Bureau, for the fiscal year ended April 30, 1922, are shown in the following report.

The principal service rendered by The Association, through this Bureau, is that of informing the membership concerning New York State legislation, especially with respect to bills introduced that affect the business interests in particular or the welfare of the City in general.

The Association is constantly in touch with the activities of the Legislature. All bills introduced are promptly and carefully analyzed in the Bureau. Measures of importance are promptly referred to The Association's Committee having jurisdiction over the subject for consideration and recommendation as to action that should be taken thereon by The Association.

Each week during the sessions of the Legislature there is published in The Association's publication, "Greater New York," an abstract of the most important bills, and either the complete text or a comprehensive digest of the new laws approved. Supplemental to this general service, individual members who indicate a special interest in any pending bills, are advised from time to time, by letter or telephone, concerning the legislative progress of such measures and the final action thereon.

The Bureau also closely follows the progress of all important measures pending in Congress, as well as the activities of the several Federal executive departments, bureaus and commissions, and is prepared promptly to supply information and service relating to Federal legislation, departmental regulations, decisions, rulings and orders.

Information Supplied.

DURING the year the Bureau supplied information and service in response to 1,494 specific requests. Of these 223 related to Federal laws, 516 to bills pending in Congress, 147 to State laws, 133 to bills pending in the State Legislature, fifty-nine to City ordinances, and 416 to subjects of a miscellaneous character. While the larger part of the information and service was requested by members of The Association, a number of commercial organizations in other cities, as well as local trade and civic organizations, availed themselves of the facilities of the Bureau.

The information given in response to the 416 miscellaneous requests covered a wide range of subjects. It included:

Digitized by Google

The provisions of regulations, rulings and decisions under the Federal and State income tax laws; the status of unaudited Federal income tax returns; the statutory requirements of other States relating to the registration and taxation of foreign corporations doing business therein; the general commercial laws of certain foreign countries; the boundaries of Congressional, Senatorial, Assembly, and Aldermanic districts and the names of representatives therefrom; the personnel of Congressional and State legislative committees and commissions; the dates of hearings on bills pending in Congress and in the State Legislature; the procedure in New York State relating to the arbitration of trade disputes and the provisions of the English Arbitration Act of 1889; the motor vehicle laws of other States; the Chicago ordinance taxing merchandise brokers and manufacturers' agents; the Canadian Customs regulations requiring imported merchandise to bear marks showing country of origin; the Canadian Sales Tax law; the Pennsylvania law taxing coal mined in that State; the New Jersey law taxing merchandise held in storage by non-residents, and the names of various Federal, State and City officials.

For use by other Bureaus and by Committees of The Association the Bureau also prepared statistical data relating to:

Appropriations and expenditures from 1917 to 1920 under the Federal Aid Road Act; Federal and State income tax collections; the receipts and expenditures of New York State, including the proportion of taxes contributed to the State by the City of New York; the tax rates of the various Boroughs of New York City from 1910 to 1920; the population of cities of the first and second class in New York State, and appropriations and expenditures by the Federal government for the hospitalization and vocational training of disabled ex-service men, under the Veterans' Bureau Act.

In addition to information and service supplied in response to requests there were brought directly to the attention of members of The Association, through the columns of "Greater New York," forty-nine of the laws enacted by the 1921 Legislature and approved during May, 1921; 222 of the bills introduced in the 1922 session, and eighty-five of the new laws enacted and approved during the 1922 session.

The Bureau also examined and reviewed 3,096 bills and forty-seven resolutions introduced during the 1922 session of the State Legislature, 672 new State laws, 238 new Federal laws, thirty-one new City ordinances, more than 600 bills introduced in Congress, and approximately 14,000 pages of the daily Congressional Record.

In a number of instances during the year the service of the Bureau was sought by members in connection with controversies or matters involving the giving of legal advice or opinion as to the construction or interpretation of statute law. In such cases, of course, the Bureau refrained from rendering service, and explained to the interested member that The Merchants' Association, being a membership corporation, is subject to the inhibition of the State law prohibiting corporations from practicing law or giving legal advice.

Other incidental activities of the Bureau included appearance before the Committee on Public Buildings and Grounds of the House of Representatives, to present The Association's reasons in favor of the creation of a Commission to arrange for the removal of the Federal Building from City Hall Park; also appearance before the State Joint Legislative Committee on Taxation and Retrenchment, in connection with proposed amendments to the State Tax Law.

Facilities Available to Members.

IN addition to the special service covering New York State legislation, for the convenience of its members and others interested, The Association maintains in this Bureau:

> A complete file of Federal laws; copies of important bills pending in Congress, including committee reports and the records of debate and hearings thereon; Presidential Proclamations, Treaties and Conventions; Treasury decisions, rulings and orders under the Tariff and Revenue laws; rules, regulations and orders of various Government departments, bureaus and commissions; all laws in force in New York State; a complete file of bills pending in the State Legislature, including a daily record of the legislative progress and final action thereon; a complete record of the proceedings of the Board of Aldermen, including existing ordinances and proposed amendments thereto, and miscellaneous files containing classified current information covering a wide range of subjects related to Federal, State and municipal matters.

The frequent use of the facilities of the Bureau indicates that the regular and special services thus made available are highly appreciated by members of The Association.

Abstracts of Bills and Laws.

THE following is a statistical résumé of State bills and laws, abstracts of which were prepared in this Bureau and published in "Greater New York" during the fiscal year, and of bills considered and acted upon by The Association during the 1922 session of the Legislature:

	Bills	Laws	Space

Total	222	134	42¼ pages

*Regular session adjourned March 17, 1922. Bills introduced 3,096, of which 672 became law.

Bills Considered and Acted Upon by The Association.

AS indicated by the following tabulation, the Legislature acted in harmony with the definite recommendations of The Association on sixteen of the bills considered, and to the contrary on only four:

REPORT OF THE ANTI-LITTER BUREAU

May 1, 1922.

Mr. S. C. Mead, Secretary,
The Merchants' Association of New York.

DEAR SIR:

THE following report covers the activities of The Association, conducted through its Anti-Litter Bureau during the fiscal year ended April 30, 1922.

The plan and scope of the work of the Bureau is under the advisory supervision of the Committee on City Conditions and Ordinances, the members of which are:

Mr. JOHN C. EAMES, Chairman;
Mr. FRANCIS BLOSSOM,
Mr. CLARKSON COWL,
Mr. H. DE B. PARSONS,
Mr. HENRY G. GENNERT,
Prof. OLIN H. LANDRETH,
Mr. H. BOARDMAN SPAULDING,
Mr. A. C. WESSMAN.

Change in Managership.

MR. CLYDE A. COPSON, former Manager of the Bureau, resigned on September 1, 1921, and the present incumbent was appointed on January 3, 1922.

The activities of the Bureau during the four months of the former Manager's tenure and also during the four months in which the Bureau was without a Manager are included in the following material.

After considerable research of records and discussion with the Chairman of the Committee on City Conditions and Ordinances, it was decided to enlarge the plan of the educational work among the students of the New York City High Schools, and to cooperate more closely with the various departments of the City government involved, and in the spirit of helpfulness to them. These policies have been industriously carried out and have been conducive to freer and more spontaneous mutual cooperation.

In carrying on the work the Manager wishes to acknowledge the hearty cooperation of the following named officials:

Grateful acknowledgment is made of the interest which the principals and the civics teachers of the High Schools and Junior High Schools have taken in this work. They constitute the point of contact between this Bureau and the High School Block Captain, and it is largely through their constant effort that a voluminous source of information has been developed.

In order properly to teach the modern form of civics in the High Schools the instructor is always on the alert to obtain new material. By furnishing the teachers with copies of the Code of Ordinances, fire prevention booklets and other literature relating to various municipal projects, etc., the Bureau has been mutually cooperative.

Reorganization of the Bureau.

ON taking charge of the Bureau, the Manager found a considerable amount of rebuilding and reorganization was necessary.

The office routine work was therefore carefully revised and certain radical changes made. These changes were largely effected for the purpose of systematizing and standardizing High School Block Captain work, and to make room for facilities for more expeditiously disposing of a larger number of reports and complaints.

The original method is followed in enlisting Block Captains, namely teachers of civics classes designating pupils eligible for Block Captain work, having pledges signed by prospective Captains and forwarding credentials, consisting of identification card, pin, instruction and police pamphlets, and report blanks for each Captain. Each report is rated on a percentage basis, and these marks are forwarded to the teacher, who credits the pupil accordingly.

The files have been completely overhauled, key maps prepared and literature revised and made more definite.

Block Captain Work in the High Schools.

THE work in connection with school children of the civics classes is at least 75% educational. This work does not stop with the children, but is carried by them into their families, not only to their younger brothers and sisters, but to their parents, many of whom are ignorant in regard to our laws.

Particular attention has been paid to developing the work in the heavily built up sections of Manhattan, Brooklyn and The Bronx. Efforts to enlist Block Captains and to interest the civics teachers in the work are carried on through addresses and personal interviews. In Queens and Richmond and in the suburban districts of Brooklyn and The Bronx interest in the general movement has been aroused through addresses of an educational nature only.

In the High Schools of the built up districts approximately 50 per cent. of each civics class, comprising the more industrious students, were enlisted as Block Captains, the selection having been made by the teacher.

These attendance figures were given by the teachers in charge of the assemblies. There are approximately 21,000 High School students studying community civics in New York City.

An assembly of civics teachers at the East 58th Street Library was also addressed on the subject of Anti-Litter Block Captain work.

The Manager also made an address at a dinner given to Mr. Reuben Simon, founder of the Juvenile League.

"Business" Block Captains.

A DRIVE was made to augment the force of "business" Block Captains to "cover" the streets given over to business. Members of The Merchants' Association doing business in the downtown section of New York were addressed to this effect, and many have volunteered to designate employees for this work. This movement is being extended.

Cooperation of the Fifth Avenue Association, Broadway Association, etc.

THE Fifth Avenue Association, the Broadway Association, the Women's Municipal League and the Broadway Merchants' Association of Brooklyn are cooperating with The Association and are at present circularizing their members, inviting them to report directly to this Bureau, on blanks with which we are furnishing them.

Boy Scouts.

THROUGH the cooperation of Dr. Finley of the "New York Times," Messrs. Martin and Fisher of the National Board of the Boy Scouts of America, and Captain Beard of the Manhattan Branch of that organization, some 3,000 resident Boy Scouts of Manhattan are in process of enrollment as Block Captains at large to report to this Bureau.

Number of Block Captains.

BLOCK Captains who have been working during the fiscal year are as follows:

Reports Received and Complaints Forwarded.

DURING the past fiscal year 8,483 reports were received, representing 23,703 complaints. Of these 18,945 were attended to by the captains themselves and 5,658 by this office.

The classification of the "office" cases is shown as follows:

In addition, 2,585 people were admonished for expectorating.

Approximately 2,600 summonses were served by the Police Department on our complaints. In most cases the defendants pleaded guilty and were given suspended sentences.

During the year 1,508 violators of the ordinances were spoken to by the Managers.

The Bureau's Preliminary Investigation Work.

EVERY report is carefully scrutinized by the Manager. Particular attention is given to reports in which there is any doubt as to the seriousness or urgency of the complaint. In cases where the circumstances warrant it the Manager makes a preliminary investigation before reporting. This eliminates all danger of forwarding unverified complaints and maintains the respect and cooperation of the City Departments.

The Bureau's Check-Up Work.

THE Bureau particularly attends to checking up the disposition of each case, and asks the Block Captains and the Police and other Departments to advise The Association accordingly. Such advices indicate that a great majority of the complaints are remedied.

MUTUAL COOPERATION WITH VARIOUS CITY DEPARTMENTS

The Street Cleaning Department—"Clean-Up Week."

AT a conference held in the offices of the Board of Health the Manager was appointed a Committee of one to find ways and means of having some five million circulars printed which would be necessary for making "Clean-up Week" effective. The Manager arranged for Mr. Allen W. Clark, Chairman of the National Clean-Up and Paint-Up Campaign Bureau, to get in touch with the Mayor's Committee.

The ultimate result of this meeting was that the above Campaign Bureau printed 1,600,000 advance circulars and follow-ups, 20,000 placards, several thousand eight-sheet posters and wagon banners. These were distributed mainly by the Police Department.

Through this office 6,000 circulars were distributed by the Boy Scouts who are being enrolled as Block Captains at large, approximately 8,000 High School Block Captains were notified and asked to collaborate in the work, and special articles on the subject were prepared and published in "Greater New York," the "New York Times," "The Bronx Home News," the "Harlem Home News," etc.

Letters are at hand from Dr. Hubbard of the Health Department, thanking us for our cooperation. Approximately 6,000 extra loads of rubbish were removed by the Department of Street Cleaning during this "Clean-up Week."

Clean-Up in the Ghetto Before the Passover Holidays.

IN order to lighten the work of the Street Cleaning District Superintendent in the lower east side, in the removal of household accumulations which are usually put out in great quantities just before the Jewish holidays, the Manager interviewed the editors of several Jewish daily papers and persuaded them to publish articles asking their readers to begin to set out their accumulations on April 3d. The result was that on account of the spreading out of the work the Street Cleaning Department easily mastered the situation.

Bettering Push Cart Market Conditions.

IN many markets the carts were lined on both sides of the street, making it almost impossible for two vehicles to pass. In numerous cases no effort was made either on the part of the peddlers to keep litter from under their carts or on the part of the supervisor to sweep such litter outside the line of carts. It was therefore all but impossible for the Street Cleaning Department to keep push cart street markets clean.

The Manager selected Street Cleaning Department District No. 4 (lower east side) as probably the worst section, and arranged a tour of inspection with representatives of the Health and Street Cleaning Departments, pointing out these conditions and taking photographs to prepare the case for an appeal to the Department of Markets.

As a result, Commissioner O'Malley, of the Department of Markets, promptly took action. Calling in several market supervisors, he threatened to discharge them if conditions were not remedied. A check-up trip several days later disclosed a remarkable improvement. Commissioner Taylor of the Street Cleaning Department, as a result of the Manager's activities, has had several conferences with Commissioner O'Malley relative to the better enforcement of rules and regulations of the push cart markets throughout the City.

The Department of Street Cleaning Cooperates.

THIS Bureau has on many occasions conferred with the Department of Street Cleaning in requesting improvements operating for cleaner streets, and its suggestions have always been received with interest, and, where possible, acted upon.

Among the suggestions that were carried out were piling snow by means of the new tractor snow plows in such a way that gutter drainage would not be interrupted, providing more cans for the sweepers, and furnishing the rubbish carts with tarpaulin covers.

Distribution of The Association's Abstract of City Ordinances

APPROXIMATELY 15,000 copies of The Association's abstract of City Ordinances, printed in English, Italian and Yiddish, have been sent to Street Cleaning Department Superintendents for distribution. These men find them very helpful in their work.

Cooperation With the Park Department.

THE Manager has worked with Commissioner Gallatin of the Park Department in trying to prevent adults and children from littering the parks and destroying shrubbery and turf. Block Captains are asked particularly to report any conditions of this kind, and the Manager, in making addresses in the High Schools, has emphasized this point as much as possible.

Cooperation with the Health Department.

IN connection with the Health Department's recent crusade against spitting in order to check the influenza epidemic, the Manager, in his address to Block Captains, emphasized the danger of the spread of disease from this source.

Every Police Captain in Manhattan and Brooklyn has been asked to instruct the patrol to carry on the war against spitting.

Dr. Royal S. Copeland, Commissioner of the Health Department, is keenly alive to the danger of contamination from littered vacant lots and yards, and has always given prompt attention to any of this Bureau's complaints of this or other nature.

Cooperation with the Police Department.

WITH the permission of the Police Commissioner the Manager has interviewed every Police Captain in the built-up sections of New York City, offering suggestions and distributing reprints of the article on "clean streets" appearing in "Greater New York" (issue of April 17), and copies of abstract of Code of Ordinances for all patrolmen. It has been suggested to each Police Captain that he place special emphasis on anti-litter work in his instructions to the patrol of each platoon. Arrangements have been made to have each Sergeant on patrol, a representative from the Department of Street Cleaning district of the Precinct, and the Manager make an inspection of the Precinct

Tenement House Department.

COMMISSIONER Frank Mann of the Tenement House Department has cooperated in correcting conditions reported to him by this Bureau, particularly in the matter of throwing refuse out of windows and littered fire escapes.

Fire Department.

THIS Bureau cooperates with the Fire Department in reporting fire hazards, locked exits, fire alarm boxes broken, etc. The Manager is helping Commissioner Drennan to make the annual "fire prevention week" (usually held in October) a success. The Commissioner has given prompt attention to this Bureau's complaints.

President of the Borough Offices.

RESPONSE to suggestions or complaints from this Bureau to the offices of the Borough Presidents of The Bronx, Brooklyn and Manhattan has been invariably prompt and concurrent.

A great many complaints are received of clogged corner basins, particularly in connection with the new type of basin built in the "heavy traffic" streets to accommodate the turning of motor driven vehicles around corners. Upon investigation it developed that when the engineers substituted the twelvefoot radius on the corners of intersecting streets for the old five-foot radius, many of the catch basins were not rebuilt, but were left standing out under the roadway, with open (ventilating) cover also in the roadway, permitting all street litter to drop directly into the basins. This matter has been taken up with the Commissioner of public works, who has promised to study the matter with a view to making a better design.

Publicity Work.

THE Editors of the "Saturday Evening Post," "Ladies' Home Journal," "American City," "The Forecast" and the "Outlook" have been written to or interviewed relative to the matter of preparing special articles for them on Anti-litter work. Three have agreed to publish such articles. Special articles have been prepared for the press and "Greater New York."

Drive on Littered Vacant Lots in Harlem and The Bronx.

THE Manager interviewed the Editors of the "Bronx Home News" and "Harlem Home News" with the idea of trying through the columns of these papers to have the owners of littered vacant lots clean them up. These newspapers were furnished with lists of all the badly littered lots in their localities, and also lists of names, addresses and localities inspected by Block Captains. This material, together with pertinent articles, has been and is being published.

OTHER CITIES INAUGURATE ANTI-LITTER WORK ON THE PLAN OF THIS BUREAU

THE Manager addressed the Passaic Chamber of Commerce on the Block Captain system in New York City. The Chairman of that Chamber reports that his body is adopting a working plan for an Anti-Litter organization similar to ours, based on the data and information furnished by this Bureau. The City of Rochester, N. Y., has likewise created a permanent Anti-Litter organization on the same plan as The Association's Bureau and from data furnished by this Bureau.

REPORT OF THE PUBLICITY BUREAU

May 1, 1922.

Mr. S. C. Mead, Secretary,
The Merchants' Association of New York.

DEAR SIR:

THE publicity obtained by The Merchants' Association last year through the efforts of the Publicity Bureau averaged a little less than nine mentions each day. This was the customary average before the outbreak of the war.

The Publicity Committee.

THE members of the Publicity Committee during the year were as follows:

Mr. INGALLS KIMBALL, Chairman;
Mr. A. VICTOR BARNES,
Mr. GEORGE B. CORTELYOU,
Mr. O. C. HARN,
Mr. L. J. HOROWITZ,
Mr. ALVIN HUNSICKER,
Mr. WILLIAM A. MARBLE.

Organization of the Bureau.

THE personnel of the Bureau remained the same as during the preceding year, consisting of the Manager and the Secretary.

Publicity Record for the Year.

A SUMMARY of the net results of The Association's publicity work from May 1, 1921, to May 1, 1922, in comparison with the results of the last four previous years, is as follows:

The Bureau sent out 118 stencils containing news of Association activities for publication in the newspapers, as compared with 219 similar stencils during the year 1920-1921.

A considerable amount of publicity obtained by The Association escaped recording because many of the trade papers and of the out-of-town newspapers are not covered by press clipping bureaus upon which it is necessary largely to rely for clippings relating to The Association and its work.

Bureau Activities.

THE activities of the Bureau during the year were mainly devoted to obtaining publicity in the newspapers and in the periodical press and to the preparation, publication and distribution of "Greater New York."

The maintenance of contact with the daily press was kept up through frequent interviews with newspaper men in which assistance was given to them not only in matters relating to The Association, but in aiding them to obtain "stories" of many kinds.

The Bureau prepared thirty-three special stories for publication in special editions of the newspapers, Sunday papers and trade papers. It also arranged for the publication of special stories prepared at its suggestion by various Bureau heads in The Association.

For the purpose of calling the attention of editors to matters deserving their notice, The Association sent out sixty-seven special letters during the year.

There is always considerable demand for characteristic photographs of New York City to be used as illustrations. The Bureau furnished these from its own stock on numerous occasions during the year. In one instance it sent seventy photographs to a Western railroad for use in advertising the City of New York and for attracting conventions to the City. A local publication which is largely distributed as a standard weekly guide to the City and its amusements has been using for several months on its cover photographs of the City furnished by the Bureau and credited to The Merchants' Association.

The Bureau reported all meetings, luncheons and other activities of The Association, covering them not only for "Greater New York," but also for the daily newspapers.

Assistance was given by the Bureau in the preparation of statements, special letters and addresses delivered by officials of The Association in connection with its work.

It also aided in the preparation and conduct of meetings, especially those of the Members' Council.

"Greater New York."

THERE were forty-six issues of "Greater New York" during the year, constituting Volume X.

The total number of pages was 664, as compared with 680 during the previous year, as follows:

Numbers	Pages	Total Pages
4	8	32

14	16	224

Clipping Service.

A LARGE part of the time of the Bureau was devoted to the careful reading of the daily newspapers and trade papers. News of interest to the various Bureaus of The Association was marked, clipped and appropriately distributed.

Distribution of "Greater New York."

"GREATER NEW YORK" was sent each week to the city editors and chief editorial writers of the City's newspapers, with a special letter calling attention to the more important features of its contents. The same method was followed in previous years, and it continued to be productive of good results.

It was also sent to a list of trade papers containing approximately 300 throughout the country.

Editions of "Greater New York."

THE average weekly edition of "Greater New York" for the year was 9,500, which was 1,000 less than the average number printed during the year 1920-21. This reduction was effected by a revision of the mailing list in September, which resulted in the dropping out of a considerable number of names.

The number of copies of the paper mailed each week averaged 9,000, as compared with 9,900 during the previous year.

The index to Volume X contained thirty-eight pages, as against eighty-three pages for the preceding year. This reduction was effected by printing the index in smaller type.

The Membership Bureau received an average of 120 copies each week in connection with its work, 61 being mailed. About 400 copies of the paper were kept for miscellaneous distribution, and with these the Bureau satisfied, so far as possible, requests made for copies.

Respectfully submitted,

ROBERT H. FULLER,
Manager, Publicity Bureau.

REPORT OF THE MEMBERSHIP BUREAU

May 1, 1922.

Mr. S. C. Mead, Secretary,
The Merchants' Association of New York.

DEAR SIR:

IN effort, though not in result, the Bureau during the fiscal year ended April 30, 1922, exceeded its usual activities on membership upbuilding and maintenance.

The inability to convert effort into accomplishment in adding to the influence of The Association as expressed in membership reflected the severe depression in trade and industry, following losses in after-war deflation, whereby large and small concerns alike vitally affected by the existing conditions found it necessary to practice such rigid economy as prevented even membership support from inclusion in the overhead expense of conducting the business.

In view of the business vicissitudes of the year, which resulted in many concerns passing entirely out of existence, the enrollment of 6,174 on April 30, 1922, may be considered a favorable comparison with the larger membership of 6,764 on the close of the previous fiscal year.

The following briefly reports important Bureau work, with results summarized, during the twelve months under review:

Membership Committee Advisory Supervision—
Membership Bureau Staff.

THE Membership Committee, which in exercising advisory supervision over the work of the Bureau held a number of meetings during the year, was practically the same in personnel as in recent years, as follows:

Mr. ARTHUR WILLIAMS, Chairman; Mr. WILLIAM L. FISH, Vice-Chairman;
GENERAL COLEMAN DUPONT, Mr. WALTER H. MERRALL,
Mr. WILLIAM FELLOWES MORGAN.

The field staff remained the same in personnel and number throughout the year.

A Manager, a Secretary, four field representatives and two clerical assistants constituted the staff engaged in regular Bureau work during the year.

New Membership—
Maintenance of Old Membership.

SUCH severe trade depression of long duration as immediately followed the heavy losses resulting from after-war deflation had never before been experienced by the present business generation. The combination of these conditions forced such economy as precluded any commitment which might be regarded as an expense, irrespective of the amount involved or the purpose for which it was intended. These conditions, which prevailed practically all of the period under review, account for only 230 members having been elected during the last fiscal year.

Though the conditions above referred to similarly affected membership maintenance, the Bureau secured within the year the withdrawal of 198 resignations. While the number of resignations received was much larger than in any previous year, the 198 withdrawn resignations may be regarded as a good result, especially as that number is also larger than ever before. The total for the year in membership upbuilding and maintenance is 428.

Pertaining to the New Enrollment.

THE new membership was drawn from many trades, industries and professions. An idea of the field from which it was derived is given by its assignment to forty of the forty-seven large divisions covering the classification of the complete enrollment. The fact that the small new enrollment is assigned to as many as eighty-four of the 157 different subdivisions within which the entire membership is classified emphasizes that no industry was immune from the general depression. In only one subdivision, namely, Law, was the number of new memberships more than ten. The average was less than three.

Professional interests, forty-six, of which forty-four were law firms; Textiles, Wholesale Dry Goods and Kindred Lines, 13, and Drugs, Chemicals and Kindred Lines, 10, were, in the order named, the four individual divisions to which the largest new enrollment was assigned within the year. The marked increase from the legal profession resulted from special effort, aided by our Officers, Directors and Committeemen.

As in the past, the preponderance of the new membership was drawn from the Borough of Manhattan, and is in large part firm or corporate support.

Though small, the new membership is of exceedingly high calibre. It not only adds to The Association's prestige in the conduct of important work for the public welfare, but is of a class that experience has demonstrated is enduring.

Field Effort.

THE four field representatives made 15,623 calls during the year, which field effort pertained to 12,157 calls to increase the enrollment;

3,466 calls on pending resignations.

Of the 12,157 calls in the effort to enlarge the membership, 2,432 represent the number of invitations to join The Association extended by the field staff. Knowledge of The Association, embracing its purposes, undertakings, accomplishments and personnel, was accordingly imparted during the year to the principals in at least 2,432 firms and corporations. It was from this source that the new enrollment was drawn in very large part.

Names Removed From the Roll.

EIGHT hundred and thirty-eight names were removed from the roll during the year on memberships dating from various years within the quarter of a century The Association has been in existence.

An analysis of the accepted resignations shows that membership was severed for the following causes:

Trade depression, merger with or absorption by members, retirement, voluntary liquidation, bankruptcy, receivership, removal from City, death, and reduction in plural membership.

The cause for the resignation made it impossible under any circumstances stances to save 289 of these memberships. Of the others, a large number will be renewed when and as the business of each concern is again normal and losses have in part been regained.

Membership losses during the year under review did not follow from dissatisfaction with the policy or management of The Association, or lack of interest in or appreciation of the need for and utility of commercial organization activity, but were due to unprecedented conditions which necessitated large and small business interests practicing, temporarily, strict economy.

Eligible Membership.

IN view of the possibility of an intensive membership campaign last Fall or this Spring, the Bureau kept up to date until early in this calendar year the eligible list covering every trade, industry and profession specially prepared last year for such campaign.

The regular eligible membership list, as the source from which the increased enrollment is drawn, was constantly corrected and from time to time amplified throughout the year.

During the year the Bureau supplied the personnel with respect to firms and corporations on the eligible list in Brooklyn and Queens Boroughs, which information will be of even greater value in the next intensive membership campaign than in the regular field effort in those two Boroughs.

The regular eligible membership list formed the basis for the special intensive campaign list.

On the recommendation of the Membership Committee, approved by the Board of Directors, the qualifications for membership were slightly changed during the year. Under the qualifications thus prescribed the eligible list in Manhattan, The Bronx, Brooklyn and Queens Boroughs was enlarged twice during the year, whereby 2,059 names were added. The present eligible list of 10,688 is the largest in use since the creation of the Bureau in 1913.

Combined, the membership and eligible membership lists, which cover every trade, industry and profession, constitute a select list, large in number, of great value in connection with Association activities.

Membership Scope.

SINCE the organization of The Association in 1897, the enrollment has consisted of individuals, firms and corporations, with firm and corporate membership constituting at least 85 per cent. of our support.

The diversity of the present membership, like the calibre, adds to the prestige and influence of The Association. The "Plan of Classification" and the "Index to Classification" in the closing part of this Year Book give a good idea of the diversity of the membership and prove conclusively that The Association can fittingly speak for the trade, commerce and industry of Greater New York.

The membership of 6,174 is assigned to 157 different subdivisions in forty-seven large divisions. Since the creation of The Association in 1897 the textile industry, banking and export-import interests, as named, have been numerically the most prominent in the membership. From the beginning of The Association the membership has been large and truly representative in the following important trades and industries vitally concerned in the City's welfare:

Food Products and Kindred Lines
Men's Apparel and Furnishings
Transportation and Shipping
Leather and Boots and Shoes
Paper and Paper Products
Insurance
Heavy Hardware, Machinery
Women's and Children's Wear
Drugs, Chemicals, Colors, Oils and Paints
Iron and Steel, Metals
Engineering, Building, Building Equipment
Jewelry Stocks
Realty

Assistance to Members and Eligibles.

AS in previous years, the Bureau, through field representatives, by letter and over the telephone, has supplied eligibles and actual members information on a variety of subjects, as opportunity presented. Such aid produced closer personal contact, whereby increased use of The Association's Bureau service resulted. Greater interest in the organization ensued therefrom. An outward manifestation of this increased interest is the willingness and desire to aid in extending the membership.

Bureau Effort Pertaining to Other than Membership.

UNDER your direction the Manager and the Secretary of the Bureau throughout the year made inquiry in reference to and supplied information on a variety of subjects not directly concerned with membership, but related to the welfare of the organization, either in connection with communications from members or from prominent out-of-town commercial organizations with which The Association is in close touch. In addition, during the year the Manager of the Bureau made a large number of calls to impart information to members and non-members.

Digitized by Google

Pursuant to instructions from the President and the Secretary, the Secretary of the Bureau on a number of occasions during the year supplied information of value in worthy fund-raising campaigns with which The Association was in sympathy.

Of service extended by the Bureau other than that which pertained to membership, perhaps that of most value was the data and information supplied to The Association's other Bureaus. It concerned, in the main, personnel and customs and practices in different trades and industries.

Membership Aid.

NOTWITHSTANDING the fact that every concern in the membership, whether large or small, irrespective of trade, industry or profession, was constantly beset with serious business perplexities, there was an unfailing willingness either voluntarily or on request, to aid in our efforts to maintain and increase the membership. This spirit may not only be interpreted as a conviction on their part of the need for and the utility of The Association's undertakings, but may reasonably be regarded by the Officers and Directors as assurance of future cooperation by practically the entire membership, in such manner and to such an extent as requested, "To Foster the Trade and Welfare of New York."

PLAN OF ORGANIZATION

THE accompanying diagram shows the plan and structure of the working machinery of The Merchants' Association of New York.

It was the purpose of the late William F. King, the founder of The Association, to create an organization of business men and citizens of the community in the form best adapted to do things and accomplish results.

Based on Business Corporation.

TO meet this purpose, the late James B. Dill, who, as attorney, organized The Association, adopted as the prototype the business corporation, which human experience had evolved as the most effective plan for cooperative effort in accomplishing results.

The Association was, therefore, organized under the membership corporation law of the State, and the basic structure of The Association is represented on the diagram by the concentric circles at the top.

Analysis of the Diagram.

THE outer circle represents the members of The Association, who elect the Board of Directors, which Board is represented by the next smaller circle. To the Board of Directors the members of The Association commit all power, authority and responsibility for the conduct of the business of the organization during the year. The members, however, reserve to themselves the opportunity, as well as the right, to control the Board by a provision in the by-laws, whereby any five members, without the concurrence of any officers or Directors, may call a special meeting of the membership.

The Board of Directors hold regular meetings monthly, and special meetings are held as occasion may require.

Functions of the Executive Committee.

THE next smaller circle represents the Executive Committee of the Board of Directors, which during the interim between the meetings of the Board has the power and authority of the Board itself. The Executive Committee, however, is very careful about exercising such power, unless the general policy has already been determined by the Directors.

The Executive Committee meets regularly each week, and special meetings are frequently held, as the work of the organization requires. This Executive Committee constitutes the point at which all the various lines of The Association's activities are co-ordinated and harmonized.

The Center of Responsibility.

THE inner and smaller circle represents the officers of The Association, who are elected annually by the Board of Directors.

The common center of these concentric circles, therefore, is the focal point of all power, authority and responsibility in the organization.

Action on the part of the Board of Directors or Executive Committee is, however, predicated upon a careful analysis of subjects.

Digitized by Google

For this purpose the investigative and recommendative machinery, as indicated by the smaller circles in the lower and left-hand corner of the diagram, is constituted.

Work of the Committees.

THE individual circles represent the various standing committees of The Association, which may be enlarged or reduced at any time by authority from the Board of Directors.

The members of these various investigative committees are appointed by the President. The function of each committee is to investigate, analyze and report, with recommendations, to the Executive Committee, and through that Committee to the Board of Directors, by whom the final decision as to the policy of The Association is made. These investigative committees have no power of action in the first instance.

Subjects for investigation by the appropriate committee and action by The Association may be suggested by any officer, by the Executive Committee, by the Board of Directors, by the Members' Council, or by any member of The Association.

The Secretary and Staff.

AFTER the determination as to the question of policy and of the result which should be attained has been made by the Board of Directors, then the administrative responsibility passes through the Secretary to the official staff of the organization, which is represented by the administrative group on the right-hand side of the diagram.

Each one of the various branches of The Association staff is under the general supervision and direction of the Secretary, who constitutes in the administrative work of The Association the co-ordinating and harmonizing agency similar to the function performed by the Executive Committee in the basic structure of the organization.

In the effort to accomplish the result which may have been determined to be advisable, the members of the investigative committees, and in fact any or all members of The Association, are requested to cooperate.

The Members' Council.

THE small circle in the upper right-hand portion of the diagram represents the Members' Council. This Council is made up of representatives of about 150 divisions of The Association's membership, and is designed to be a closer connecting link between the machinery of the organization and the membership.

The Council, as its name implies, has no power of action.

It may recommend to the Board of Directors subjects which, in the opinion of the Council, should be taken up by The Association for the benefit of commerce and for the welfare of the community. It contains a membership representative of practically every branch of the trade and commerce of New York. It holds meetings at stated intervals, where short talks by representative men on live business issues and trade problems are given. It is intended to stimulate an intelligent public interest in matters affecting the trade and welfare of New York.

A Representative Structure.

IT will be seen that the structure of the organization is representative in character, and follows very closely the organization of a business corporation.

The form is one which insures promptness, elasticity and efficiency, which are three vital factors in the successful prosecution of cooperative effort for the City.

FOR GUIDANCE OF CHAIRMEN OF COMMITTEES

THE Board of Directors, May 16, 1907, adopted the following preambles and resolutions:

WHEREAS, It is of prime importance that all utterances and publications made in the name or behalf of The Merchants' Association of New York should be coordinated with each other, and in harmony with the general policy of the Association as established and authorized by its Board of Directors; and

WHEREAS, To this end it is essential that every important utterance or publication by any of the standing or special committees, made through its chairman or otherwise, should, if circumstances permit, be reviewed and approved, prior to its publication, by the Board of Directors, or, between the sessions of the latter, by the Executive Committee; therefore,

RESOLVED, That the following rules recommended by the Executive Committee, are hereby approved and adopted by the Board of Directors, viz.:

RULES FOR GUIDANCE OF CHAIRMEN OF COMMITTEES.

1. The attention of the chairman of each committee shall be called to the preambles preceding these rules.

2. The chairman of each committee is expected, before issuing any letter or statement for publication, to submit same in draft to the Secretary of the Association, who thereupon will arrange to have it promptly reviewed either by the Board or the Executive Committee, either in meeting or by submission to the individual members, according to the urgency of the matter.

3. That while the Board and the Executive Committee, so far as consistent with their own responsibilities, will give the fullest discretion and latitude to committees and their chairmen, and will endorse and support them in all proper ways, the latter will be expected to reciprocate by recognizing the importance of unity in the policy and work of the Association, of coordination of the work of its numerous committees, and of deliberation and a due sense of responsibility in all statements and publications issued over the name, and, therefore, presumably having the sanction and endorsement of The Merchants' Association.
